Quintuplets Have New Brother

DIONNE BABY BORN TODAY IN ONTARIO IS BOY

New Arrival Brings Family Total to Three Boys and Eight Girls; Mother Attended by Dr. J. E. I. Joyal; She and Child in Good Condition, Says Physician

Canadian Press

Callander, Ont., July 9.—An eight-pound baby boy was born at 3.25 a.m. today to Mrs. Elsie Legros Dionne, mother of the two-year-old Dionne quintuplets.

News of the new arrival was not known until early afternoon because of the secrecy that had surrounded the pre-natal care of the mother, who for weeks kept to her farmhouse home across the road from the nursery where the quintuplets live.

The baby was born in the same little farm home where the quintuplets came into the world.

Both Mrs. Dionne and the baby were reported doing exceptionally well. Dr. J. E. I. Joyal, assisted by Nurse Della Charrette of Callander, attended the mother and child.

The physician was called shortly after midnight. The birth was normal and Dr. Joyal did not have to remain long afterwards.

The new baby, third boy among the eleven living children of Mr. and Mrs. Elsie Dionne, has dark features like the other youngsters who come from sturdy French-Canadian stock.

The baby boy born to Elsie Dionne is her twelfth child. One died. The Dionnes have three boys and eight girls, including the famous quintuplets born May 28, 1934.

In addition to Yvonne, Annette, Cecile, Emilie and Marie, the other children and their ages are: Ernest, nine; Rose, eight; Theresa, seven; Daniel, four; Pauline, three.

Mrs. Dionne was born Elsie Legros, May 6, 1909. She was married September 15, 1925, to Elsie Dionne.

VILLAGE IS FAMOUS
The Dionnes have always made their home in the Callander district of northern Ontario, only a few miles from the city of North Bay.

A little more than two years ago the world was startled and the little village became famous when the quintuplets were born. An obscure country doctor attended the mother.

When Dr. Allan Roy Dafeo arrived at the farm home two of the babies were born and the third was being delivered. Midwives were in attendance.

Since the unprecedented event of living quintuplets lost some of the fascination, the five have continued to thrive in their nursery home under the direction of Dr. Dafeo, now known the world over.

SUBJECT TO PROVINCIAL ACT

The lives of the five themselves have been uneventful, but the question of care and supervision of the children has caused some differences. The Ontario Legislature passed an enactment making the babies wards of the King until their eighteenth birthday. The government announced the babies would not be exploited, after earlier attempts had been made by exhibitors to have them placed before the public.

The parents have sought to have the children given over entirely into their care. Dr. Dafeo has given the parents permission to visit the nursery at any time.

MANY TOURISTS

Thousands of tourists annually visit the neighborhood for only a peep at the babies. Now with a specially constructed playground a better view is afforded while the youngsters are unaware of the spectators' presence. The parents still live in their old farm dwelling across the road from the nursery. It was there the quintuplets were born and there the new baby arrived today.

VENIOT FUNERAL AT BATHURST, N.B.

Bathurst, N.B., July 9.—Far from the scenes of his colorful political career in provincial and Dominion Parliaments, Hon. P. J. Veniot went to his last rest today in a little cemetery adjoining Sacred Heart Church here.

The governments of Canada and New Brunswick were represented at the impressive funeral service. Prime Minister King, closely associated with Mr. Veniot when the latter was Postmaster-General, arrived from Ottawa to pay tribute to the former Premier of New Brunswick.

Daughters of the Nile

Modern and quite un-Cleopatra-like in their ribbons and pigtails, the sisters of Egypt's new sixteen-year-old King Farouk looked for all the world like pretty Canadian schoolgirls as they left Cairo to spend the summer in Alexandria. Until their brother attains the age of eighteen and begins his reign, a regency is governing their country.

MANY CANADIANS VISITING EUROPE

Canadian Press
Ottawa, July 9.—Indicative of a great exodus of Canadians to Europe, more than 5,000 passports were issued in July, largest number in five years, it was announced today.

This was apart from persons traveling on passports previously issued and the 6,125 special passports issued free to the Vimy pilgrims.

ALBERNI LOSES TWO RESIDENTS

C. F. Bishop and J. R. Motion, Former Mayors, Pass Away Up-Island

Special to The Times

Port Alberni, July 9.—Alberni is today mourning the death of its oldest citizen, Charles Frederick Bishop, who came here fifty years ago and was the city's first mayor after incorporation in 1913.

He was ninety-one years old and was born at Luton, Bedfordshire, England, and came to Canada in 1886, arriving at Vancouver the day after that young city was wiped out by fire.

He came to Alberni and farmed for three years, until in 1889 he established the present retail business firm, which bears his name. He was a life long member of the Quakers, a Liberal in politics and a keen worker in board of trade and civic activities.

Mrs. Bishop predeceased her husband in 1926. Surviving are four daughters and one son, Mrs. W. R. Pillar of Victoria, Mrs. J. S. Richardson, Mrs. A. C. MacPhee, Miss Ethel Bishop and P. H. Bishop, all of this district. There are twelve grandchildren and two great grandchildren. Funeral services will be held in Alberni tomorrow afternoon.

ALSO FORMER MAYOR

James Russell Motion, city clerk of Alberni and a former mayor of that city, died suddenly at his home yesterday evening. He was one of the district's best-known residents, having come here from Regina thirty-seven years ago. He was born in Scotland sixty-seven years ago. Mr. Motion came to Canada as a lad of thirteen to work on a farm near Regina and immediately after his marriage in 1899 came to Alberni to fill the post of principal at the United Church Mission School, a position which he held until 1910. He then entered the real estate and insurance business, and operated a small sawmill at Beaver Creek for eight years.

In 1922 he became mayor of Alberni for a two-year term and again in 1929 he was elected mayor holding office until 1932, when he resigned to become city clerk. His first wife died in 1924, and he married again in 1929. Besides a widow he is survived by two sons, Gordon and Ian, both living at Alberni, and five sisters in other parts of Canada. The funeral will be private.

RAILWAY CUT BY ETHIOPIANS

French Newspapers Report Guerrilla Warfare Against Italian Invaders

Canadian Press
Paris, July 9.—French officials said today they were informed Ethiopian warriors had blown up several bridges on the French railroad between Djibouti and Addis Ababa.

They said it was reported the line had been cut east and west of the Wash River. They said Italian troops were policing the railroad, but that the Italian forces were too small to prevent the line being cut. Officials said they expected the Italians to repair the damage and to put heavier forces in that part of Ethiopia.

RAIDS REPORTED

Fresh warfare in Ethiopia between Italian troops and native warriors were reported by French newspapers. From London, the correspondent of Le Petit Journal wrote: "Ras Imru has made attacks on the Dessale and Gondar garrisons and has already made many raids thirty-five to forty-five miles into the territories occupied by the Italian troops."

Killed In Egypt

Capt. Douglas E. McIntosh, son of Judge J. C. McIntosh and Mrs. McIntosh of Ten Mile Point, who was killed when the Royal Air Force transport plane in which he was traveling crashed in the Egyptian desert yesterday, is shown in the above picture at Heliopolis, where he was stationed. The picture arrived at the home of his parents yesterday after the tragic news of his death had been received. It was the last picture taken of the young officer.

CHINESE SEE TANKS ROLL IN STREETS

Natives Look With Amazement as "Iron Dragons," With Machine-guns Mounted, Are Paraded for Second Day, Following Unprecedented Display of Force in Historic Legation Quarter; Japanese Soldiers With Drawn Bayonets Hold Back Crowds at Park

Associated Press

Peiping, July 9.—A squadron of Japanese army tanks, with machine guns mounted, drove through Peiping to that part of the Forbidden City called Central Park today.

One hundred Japanese soldiers with drawn bayonets took up a position at the entrance to hold back the curious throng which gathered while twenty-five Japanese officers entered the park.

The Chinese looked on the scene with mingled fear and amazement, calling the tanks "iron dragons."

Japanese tanks were paraded through Peiping yesterday, past foreign legations and embassies. The appearance of the hundreds of motorized troops startled the placid and historic legation quarter. Flags flew, bugles sounded and great quantities of war materials were paraded through the international district.

FIRST SPECTACLE OF SORT
Yesterday was the first time the huge caterpillars had been seen in the legation quarter. No other country has such equipment here.

Half a dozen Japanese generals appeared in the demonstration, intended, apparently, to show Chinese and foreigners Japan is prepared to deal with anybody who resists her mainland military.

Reports from Ninghsia province, coincidentally, indicated Japan had all but completed a string of wireless-equipped military missions dominating the 2,000-mile length of inner Mongolia from west of the Manchukuo border.

Premier's Party at Queen Charlottes on Way to Juneau and Dawson

Prince Rupert, B.C., July 9.—Premier T. D. Pattullo and his party took off from here at 10 o'clock this forenoon for Queen Charlotte City. He was scheduled to visit Port Clements and Massett, then fly to Ketchikan and later to Juneau, where he expects to stay tonight. Tomorrow he plans to visit Atlin, White Horse and Dawson, Y.T., and on Saturday visit Stewart and possibly Telegraph Creek, returning here on Tuesday.

CROP OUTLOOK SHOWS SHRINKAGE

Canadian Press
Ottawa, July 9.—Crop prospects at the end of June on the average across Canada were much below those of a year ago, and even a month before, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today in a bulletin covering the condition of all field crops in Canada. During June declines in prairie grain crops more than offset improved prospects in the east and in British Columbia.

Company Head's Salary Is $30,000

Harry Aird Gives Figures at Coal Inquiry in Montreal

Canadian Press
Montreal, July 9.—Harry Aird told the royal commission investigating the anthracite coal situation in Canada today that as president of the British Coal Corporation and vice-president of the St. Lawrence Stevedoring Company and Canadian Import Company, he received a stipend of $30,000 annually.

This was paid by the Canadian Import Company, the ultimate cost of Mr. Aird's salary being distributed between the three companies in proportion to the amount of service he rendered to each, the witness told Dr. H. M. Tory of Ottawa, the commissioner.

Mr. Aird said there was no understanding with the British Coal Corporation or the St. Lawrence Stevedoring Company regarding payment of a set proportion of his salary.

"The Canadian Import Company owns the British Coal Corporation and the St. Lawrence Stevedoring Company. It is not their right to assess charges for my services," Mr. Aird asked Commission Counsel Bernard Bissonette, K.C.

Mr. Bissonette suggested the directors of British Coal Corporation and St. Lawrence Stevedoring Company were "dumplings." "No," said Mr. Aird. "The commission is investigating the importation and distribution of anthracite coal in Canada to determine if conditions prejudicial to the public interest exist and to make recommendations for remedying them if found necessary."

Province To Take Measure To London

Will Ask Privy Council to Rule on Marketing Legislation Held Ultra Vires By Canadian Supreme Court; Schemes Remain in Force

Hon. K. C. Macdonald, B.C. Minister of Agriculture, announced today that British Columbia would take the Natural Products Marketing Act to the Privy Council.

The marketing act was held ultra vires by the Supreme Court of Canada in its reference rulings on the Bennett reform legislation, and the federal government has decided not to carry it to the Privy Council.

The B.C. government, striving to protect marketing schemes now in operation in the province, will therefore seek a test on the measure before the highest court in the empire, Dr. Macdonald explained.

This decision was reached here after Ottawa announced yesterday it did not intend to proceed further on the marketing law.

J. W. de B. Farris, K.C., who is in London, will make the applications for leave to appeal to the Privy Council in this and two other cases—the Farmers' Creditors' Arrangement Act and Section 498A of the Criminal Code, which B.C. also intends to appeal.

Attorney-General Sloan probably will argue some of the cases personally.

Pending a Privy Council ruling on the marketing act, producer boards in British Columbia will continue to operate under the legislation, Dr. Macdonald explained. He has been advised from Ottawa that the Supreme Court's ruling constituted an opinion only and did not kill the act.

As long as the opinion stands, however, the operation of the law will be unsatisfactory in the opinion of the authorities here, since it would be practically impossible to secure conviction for a violation.

The special marketing law enacted by the province and proclaimed after the Supreme Court ruled on the federal statute will remain in force. If producer boards wish powers of price-fixing and licensing under it, they may apply to the provincial government.

Area Of Big Drought Grows

With Only Scattered Showers on Prairies, Ontario Feels Grip of Great Heat Wave

Winnipeg, July 9.—Canada's drought belt stretched today from the western fringe of the prairies to the farm lands of eastern Ontario, relieved only here and there by life-giving showers in Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

Ontario felt the full blast of baking sunlight. Temperatures in many places reached 90 and higher. Small fruits, field crops and gardens were badly hit in many parts of the province.

Quebec and the Maritime Provinces for the most part have escaped the drought hazard, though the temperature has been high in the interior.

NO GENERAL RAINFALL
Rain on the prairies touched southeastern Saskatchewan and southern Manitoba. Today, however, there was no indication of any general downpour. Wheat prices rose again in Winnipeg, though not to the extent recorded during the height of the dry period.

State tolls to the extent of these fruits, field crops and gardens were

Britain's Added Defence Vote To Be $98,263,500

Parliament Is Asked to Approve Sums Which Will Raise Army-navy-air Force Budget For Year to $963,268,500

Canadian Press
London, July 9.—The three defence services asked Parliament today to increase their budgets $98,263,500.

Supplementary estimates filed in the House of Commons asked these amounts over funds already approved for national defence:

The special radio committee of the House of Commons last session recommended a forty-eight-hour silent period and this provision was incorporated in the act establishing a radio corporation to take the place of the commission. The act, however, has not been proclaimed and the commission is not bound by its terms.

Air services $58,500,000, army $33,000,000, navy $5,295,000.

In addition, an increase of 1,468,500 in the funds for munition factories was requested. The new requests provide for the navy's 1936 programme to be increased by two cruisers, one flotilla leader, eight destroyers, one aircraft carrier and four submarines.

The new warships are in addition to a programme already calling for five cruisers, nine smaller vessels, one aircraft carrier and four submarines, besides two capital ships to be laid down early in 1937.

The supplementary naval estimate issued last April allowed $1,015,000 for each of the new battleships to be spent during the current financial year. The new estimate, however, reduces the expenditure, allowing $2,016,800 for each.

ACCELERATE PROGRAMME
In an accompanying statement, Sir Samuel Hoare, First Lord of the Admiralty, explained "It has been found possible to accelerate certain ships in the existing programme." He said each of the new cruisers would be about 5,000 tons.

The total cost of the additions to the naval forces was estimated at $55,075,000, of which only $750,000 will be expended during the current financial year.

Since the earlier supplementary estimate issued for the navy appropriated $51,500,000 additional, the fighting forces demands were increased $149,763,500 since the introduction of the budget.

TOTAL $963,000,000
The new askings would raise the total defence budget from $865,005,000 to $963,268,500.

DR. CADMAN IS SINKING

Associated Press
Plattsburgh, N.Y., July 9.—Rev. Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, internationally known radio preacher, lapsed into unconsciousness and delirium today. Dr. Cadman, ill of pneumonia and a ruptured appendix, is lying in the Champlain Valley Hospital here.

Dr. Lyman G. Barton Jr., attending surgeon, said a transfusion for which the noted Brooklyn clergyman's daughter, Marie, gave her blood, was "merely of temporary benefit."

MINIMUM FOOD BUDGET GIVEN

U.S. Home Economics Bureau Reports at Least $130 a Person Needed

Associated Press
Seattle, July 9.—One hundred and thirty dollars per person per year is about the minimum the average city family can spend for food and get an adequate diet, the American Home Economics Association learned today.

Hazel K. Stiebeling of the United States Bureau of Home Economics said studies of 2,500 non-farm families during the past two years, coupled with more than 1,000 dietary records from 1914 to 1933, showed that:

"At present-day food prices, city families, spending more than $130 per person per year for food, tend to get diets that meet minimum requirements" with "some margin for safety. Adequate diets are likely to be purchased for less only if the housewife has unusual knowledge or skill in this field."

RADIO PAUSE ON POLITICS

Canadian Press

Ottawa, July 9.—The Canadian Radio Commission announced today it had applied a twenty-four-hour ban on political broadcasts immediately preceding voting day in the Quebec and Manitoba general elections. It will be a Sunday in both cases.

Manitoba will vote July 27 and Quebec August 17.

The special radio committee of the House of Commons last session recommended a forty-eight-hour silent period and this provision was incorporated in the act establishing a radio corporation to take the place of the commission. The act, however, has not been proclaimed and the commission is not bound by its terms.

TO USE FORCE TO END STRIKE

French Government Will Send Police With Guns But No Bayonets to Oust Strikers From Numerous Business Places If Triple Appeal Fails

Associated Press
Paris, July 9.—An armed force will be used "with care" to oust French strikers who refuse appeals to evacuate business places, Minister of the Interior Roger Salengro said today.

The minister explained that by using force he meant gun-damages "without bayonets." Paul Faure, Minister of State, concurred in the plan.

His declaration was made to a Socialist delegation from the Chamber of Deputies, and followed the outbreak of fresh "folded arm" strikes in Paris and the provinces.

THREE APPEALS

The strikers will be asked to leave the factories by the mayor, then by a labor union delegate and finally by the local member of parliament, M. Salengro asserted. If these three appeals fail, the government will resort to force, he declared.

Departmental prefects, holding police in check, looked to Paris meanwhile for strike-breaking orders. The provincial government leaders declined to reply to demands from employers that police be sent to evacuate strikers from occupied business places.

The number of employees still refusing to return to their jobs was officially set today at 80,529.

KARPIS GANG MEMBER SLAIN

Lawrence de Vol Killed After Slaying Policeman at Enid, Okla.

Associated Press
Enid, Okla., July 9.—A young gunman, shot to death after he had killed an Enid policeman and wounded two others, was identified early today by Desk Sgt. Harold Woolwine as Lawrence de Vol, Karpis-Barker gangster and widely hunted leader of sixteen convicts who escaped from a Minnesota criminal insane asylum last month.

Woolwine said the gunman's fingerprints and description tallied perfectly with those on a police circular describing De Vol.

The gangster shot and killed Patrolman C. Palmer and seriously wounded his fellow officer, Ralph Knarr, when they approached him in a beer parlor late last night.

SHOT BY OFFICER
Assistant Chief of Police Lelon Coyle chased De Vol into an alley and shot him to death. One of Coyle's fingers was clipped off in the gun battle.

Police held a man who told Sgt. Woolwine he was Donald Reader, companion of De Vol and that both had escaped from the St. Peter, Minn., hospital for the criminal insane on June 7 with thirteen other inmates.

Twelve were captured later and one was killed in Oklahoma City.

COMPANION CAPTURED
Reader was captured on the street a few hours after the shooting. A young woman who was with De Vol in the beer parlor said she had met him only yesterday evening.

The officers were called to the beer parlor by the proprietor, who said he feared a hold-up.

Witnesses said the man identified as De Vol was sitting in a booth with another man and two women when the officers entered.

"Let me finish drinking my beer," he was quoted as saying. "I think I know what you want me for."

L. J. Edwards, Enid foundry worker, said that when the officers paused, the man suddenly drained his stein, lowered it to the table, drew a pistol and began firing.

Knarr and Palmer fell. One of the gunman's bullets creased Edwards's leg.

De Vol also was wanted in connection with the killing of John Rose, a Kirksville, Mo., policeman, in November, 1935, and the wounding of another officer at that time.

Forest Fire Nears Hard Rock Settlement in Thunder Bay District of Ontario

Canadian Press
Geraldton, Ont., July 9.—A new life was within a quarter mile of the Hard Rock Gold Mine late this afternoon and it was feared the camp house would be destroyed. The mine, on a point in a lake, is believed safe.

A valiant fight yesterday by mine employees in this part of the Thunder Bay District and a change in the wind direction saved the townsite of Little Long Lac Gold Mines. Powerful hoses from the mine were played against the flames which swept the slash and debris within a few hundred yards of the townsite and a sweeping about-face in the wind from southwest to east added success to their efforts.

Several abandoned buildings on the Macleod-Cockshutt property southeast of Little Long Lac were destroyed by the fire, but new buildings and equipment installed recently were saved.

MAGICIANS AT Work in Seattle
Seattle, July 9.—John Stabile, Seattle insurance broker, yesterday proved there must be something to this magic stuff after all, when he drove an automobile, blindfold, through the business district and not once got tagged.

His act was the forerunner of the annual convention of the Pacific Coast Association of Magicians, opened today, with William Harkness, Victoria, scheduled to permit himself to be riveted and sealed into a steel foot tank and attempt to escape sight-unseen, in a free open-air exhibition.

After dinner this evening the magicians, including the widow of Harry Houdini, Hollywood, will stage a big public show in a Seattle theatre, directed by Caro G. Miller, president of Mystic 13, San Jose, Calif.

LABOR CALL IS NOT ANSWERED
John L. Lewis Refuses to Appear Before U.S. Federation Executive

Washington, July 9.—After ignoring a summons from the American Federation of Labor's executive council, John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, resumed President Roosevelt today there was a "great mass movement" in labor for his re-election.

The council meanwhile met at federation headquarters to determine whether Lewis and his allies in the present drive to organize the nation's steel workers into an industrial union should be suspended from federation membership.

The council had ordered Lewis to appear and answer charges of "dual unionism" in setting up the Committee for Industrial Organization with eleven allied unions.

Paying no heed, Lewis talked politics with the President for twenty minutes.

Lewis's White House call followed by a day's visit by William Green, A. F. of L. president and spokesman for the craft union faction that is considering ousting the United Mine Workers and their allies from the federation.

POLICY FLOUTED
The federation's executive council had summoned Lewis and his associates on the Committee for Industrial Organization to appear, beginning today. The Lewis group was asked to answer charges it had flouted federal law by trying to organize the 500,000 steel workers into one big industrial union instead of into several unions divided according to crafts.

Lewis told reporters he would not be present. He said the council knew where he stood. None of the representatives of eleven unions associated with him in pushing the steel drive showed any intention of complying with the executive council's summons.

William Green acknowledged he did not expect any of the Lewis men to show up.

SUSPENSION DEBATE
Sentiment for suspending the Lewis group of unions, said to comprise about one-third of the federation's membership, was growing in the executive council, one labor leader asserted. Last week, he said, a survey showed the council stood nine to six in favor of suspension, but since then some of the six have swung over.

The executive council began its present session yesterday, but leaders said it had not reached the steel quarrel. Instead it devoted itself to other matters, deciding to charter the American Newspaper Guild as an international union.

President Green predicted the council would take definite action on the Committee for Industrial Organization, but not until next week.

quarters of an inch in the Estevan area of southeastern Saskatchewan and splashed a path through Manitoba on a straight line eighty miles north of United States boundary line and as far east as Winnipeg.

The blistering heat continued to sweep Ontario pastures and damage crops already suffering from drought.

FOUR LOSE LIVES
In Ontario the heat wave had claimed two lives today and two other persons were drowned while seeking relief bathing.

John Bellman, seventy-eight, was overcome and died while delivering eggs at a Niagara Falls hotel.

The other deaths were reported yesterday. John Lamont, sixty-one, died while haying in the Caledonia district of Peel County. James Gibb, forty-five, drowned in Hamilton Bay, and Hilary Jutal, eleven, drowned in the Welland Ship Canal.

DEATH TOLL MOUNTS
Chicago, July 9.—Scattered rains brought temporary relief today to a few sections in the United States blanketed by stifling heat, but no general break was forecast in the torrid weather.

Deaths reached at least 168, and blazing destruction continued to mow crops in the fertile fields of the Middle West. Misery, want and despair grew in the agricultural regions.

Spreading east, the heat wave involved about half of the nation, and temperatures in three of four regions were in the thirties.

Rain fell spasmodically, dampening parts of North Dakota, Minnesota, Iowa, Illinois and Indiana, while some few localized areas were drenched by downpours.

New England, enveloped by the spreading heat, saw a sixty-five-year record heat broken by electrical storms which caused an estimated $100,000 damages from fires started by lightning.

Adrian, Mich., started early toward a new heat mark with a reading of 105.5 degrees at mid-morning.

Illinois Legislator Is Shot to Death

SELASSIE MAY VISIT U.S. SOON

Canadian Press from Havas
London, July 9.—Emperor Haile Selassie today was reported considering a $500,000 guarantee from British and American sources for a visit to the United States to raise funds for the Ethiopian cause.

The sponsors of the plan for the Emperor's trip to the United States suggest a visit to fashionable American summer resorts such as Newport, Saratoga and Southampton, and lecture tour of principal United States cities.

Mediterranean Fleet Reduced

Plans For Withdrawal of Some of British Warships Are Announced

London, July 9.—Plans for a reduction of the fleet concentration in the Mediterranean were announced today by the House of Commons today by Sir Samuel Hoare, First Lord of the Admiralty.

"It is proposed," he said, "to release at a very early date those units which were sent temporarily from the home stations and other stations abroad."

Withdrawal of some of the naval units follows relaxation of tension since Italy's conquest of Ethiopia, it was reported, together with the League of Nations decision to suspend sanctions next week.

STRONGER THAN IN 1935
The fleet in the Mediterranean, however, will remain stronger than before the Italo-Ethiopian crisis, in accordance with the government's policy as stated to Parliament by Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden.

Approximately 185 fighting ships were stationed in the Mediterranean and vicinity at the height of the crisis, and while the peak of power has been slightly reduced since then, most of the reinforcements have remained.

New Proposals For Fruit Trade

Empire Producers' Conference Complete Their Sessions in London

London, July 9.—Delegates to the empire-fruit-producers' conference met again today to sign the proceedings of the conference.

Recommendations made during the sessions amongst the delegates involving legislative action will be submitted to the appropriate departments of the respective governments.

Nothing of the proceedings so far has been published, but a reliable source indicated the Ottawa economic agreements had been pronounced ineffective in some details.

A statement issued concerning the conference said the delegates had displayed throughout "wonderful unanimity and the keenest desire to achieve something in the common interest of the empire—not for any isolated district or country."

Fruit organizations from Great Britain, Canada and the other dominions, the West Indies and Mauritius were represented. The conference opened June 29.

Tokio, July 9.—(Canadian Press from Havas).—Eleven Japanese soldiers were killed and five wounded in a battle with 300 bandits yesterday at Chinchuan in eastern Fengtien province, it was announced here today.

Admitting a lengthy prison record in Montana, Bell told the court his liberty was worth "more than a few paltry dollars." Many Lethbridge merchants accepted the counterfeit coins as genuine.

He pleaded guilty to a horse-theft charge at Butte, Mont., twelve years ago, he told the court, on the alleged promise of a light sentence. He was given six to twelve years. Two years later he escaped, but was recaptured. After his release he was deported to Vancouver and later came to Medicine Hat.

Blood Now Made Outside Body

Experiments at University of Oregon With Tiny Glass "Factories" Interest Medical World

Associated Press
Chicago, July 9.—Tiny glass "factories" which manufacture human blood cells artificially were in operation today on the Pacific Coast.

They were designed by two University of Oregon researchers, Dr. Edwin E. Osgood of the medical school staff, and Miss Inez E. Brownlee, technician.

Although devised as a substitute for nature's complicated set-up inside the human bones, the machinery in these synthetic biological construction plants is extremely simple:

A jelly-like substance in a plain glass tube with a rubber cap. The researchers obtain some marrow from someone's collapse, inject it into the tube with a syringe, force a mixture of gas through the jelly and the marrow, and then place the tube in a warm water bath.

Inside the "factory," the two scientists reported in the Journal of the American Medical Association, the marrow cells act as they do at home—live, grow, move, kill germs and produce blood cells.

FISHBEIN IMPRESSED
This month Dr. Morris Fishbein, editor of the Journal, made a speaking tour on the western coast. He stopped off to talk to Dr. Osgood. He left so impressed he sent a report back to the Journal in Chicago marked "rush."

"The method described," said the report, "permits satisfactory growth and is convenient for growing a large number of cultures at the same time. . . . By the use of this technique it has been possible to make rapid strides in the study of the effects of variation in the composition of the medium."

Italo-German Pact Reported

Austrians Hear Agreement Prevents Restoration of Hapsburgs

Vienna, July 9.—A spokesman for the Heimwehr (home guard) said today Italy and Germany had concluded a far-reaching agreement to prevent a restoration of the Hapsburg throne in Austria for at least three years.

This secret information, said the spokesman, was received by leaders of the Heimwehr.

He listed four points in the reported accord:

1. Germany's recognition of Italian sovereignty in Ethiopia.

2. Germany's guarantee of Austria's independence for three years.

3. Italy's guarantee there would be no Hapsburg restoration within three years.

4. Austria and Germany to sign an agreement ironing out their differences before next September 15, when nationalist influences will be reincorporated into the Austrian cabinet.

NAZIS IN CABINET
The last point was taken to mean the cabinet would be broadened to include Nazi sympathizers who, however, would be unable to conduct Nazi activities. Germany should promise not to encourage Nazi activities in Austria.

Such men would be known as Nationalists or Liberals.

The press attache of the German legation and a spokesman for the Austrian Chancellery stated they had no information regarding the reported pact.

BERLIN STATEMENT
Associated Press
Berlin, July 9.—A spokesman for the German Foreign Office said today he had no knowledge of any accord between Germany and Italy as reported in Vienna.

Rio de Janeiro, July 9.—Ernani de Andrade, police squad chief charged with killing another police officer, was reported by brother policemen to have killed himself today by jumping out of a second-story window.

T. MEIGHAN, ACTOR, DIES

New York, July 9.—Thomas Meighan, famed screen actor, died yesterday evening at his Great Neck, Long Island, home.

He had been ill for some time and lapsed into a coma several hours before his death. His wife was with him at the end.

Thomas Meighan was Pittsburgh's gift to a movie public which liked its heroes definitely on the strong arm side.

He was handsome, stood six feet one inch, carried his roles easily and had a fine sense of humor easily translatable into pantomime in the days before the screen found a voice.

Success attended his efforts on the stage prior to his entry into motion pictures in 1916, but the work which

"made" him as an actor was a film called "The Miracle Man," based on the well-known book by Frank Packard of Lachine, Que. It was a story about crooks redeemed from sin, and from the moment of its release proved a box office smash.

vice enabled the entire army estimate to be limited to $33,000,000.

Asking for the air force to contemplate an increase in personnel of 5,000 men, bringing the total to 55,000.

Overseas units would be increased by twelve squadrons by 1939. Present overseas units total twenty-five squadrons with a strength of approximately 270 planes.

VOTE OF CONFIDENCE
The government yesterday evening in the Commons defeated 359 to 139 a motion of domestic policy. The division in effect was a vote of confidence. The Labor resolution was designed to call attention to what was described as governmental reluctance to deal with the "grave and earnest problem of hunger and want in the midst of plenty."

S. BULLEY NEW MUSIC TEACHER

Appointed By School Board to Supervise Course in City Schools

Stanley Bulley will be Victoria's school musical supervisor for the year beginning in September. Yesterday evening his appointment on probation was made at the regular meeting of the city school board.

He was chosen from a field of ten applicants. In addition to degrees or high ranking, Mr. Bulley possesses certificates of training at the Royal Academy and is equipped to supervise the new developments in the study of the satisfaction of the provincial government. It was understood yesterday evening the government insisted on specific qualifications for the post before approving payment of a share of the salary given the supervisor on the same basis as that accorded school teachers.

Information given at the meeting indicated a reorganization of musical courses to include instructional classes to teachers and the establishment of a curriculum for which regular credits would be given.

DEBT PYRAMID CAUSES ALARM

City School Board to Study Mounting Interest Charges on Superannuation

Alarmed at the future possibilities of pyramiding interest charges against the deficit in the school superannuation fund, the city school board yesterday evening referred that matter back to the finance committee when a bill for $844, the interest charges for the year, was put forward for payment.

Trustee Walter Stenland raised the question of the pyramiding costs on the shortage in the superannuation account.

"What's going to be the eventual outcome?" he asked.

Trustee Kenneth Ferguson repeated the question before suggesting the matter be given close study.

"The situation is getting serious," as Trustee Stenland has pointed out.

Trustee Charles Bishop commented in seconding a motion to refer the question back to the committee for further study.

PRISONER'S FRIEND DIES

Salt Lake City, July 9. (Associated Press).—Mary Barker, seventy, is dead. Twenty-seven years ago she entered the city jail voluntarily to cure a thirst for liquor and she never left. Cured, she helped the jail matrons and befriended prisoners. She worked for her board, lodging and clothing. Her only diversion was an occasional movie.

CATTLE IMPORTS TO BE ALLOWED

Ottawa, July 9.—Issuing of permits for importation into Canada of cattle, sheep, goats, other ruminants and swine from the British Isles will now be considered, it was stated in a ministerial order issued today by the deputy minister of agriculture.

This order removes necessity for detention of these animals at English, Scottish or Irish quarantine stations prior to embarkation for Canada.

Restrictions for importation into Canada were occasioned some time ago by an outbreak of foot and mouth disease in Great Britain.

Vancouver Council Adopts Proposal to Aid Those in Danger of Losing Homes

Vancouver, July 9.—A proposal that the city give work, at the rate of 50 cents an hour up to $60 maximum a month to taxpayers who are in danger of losing their homes through tax sale, was adopted unanimously by the Vancouver city council yesterday.

The proposal was put forward by Alderman W. W. Smith after he had been advised by Hon. A. Wells Gray, Minister of Municipal Affairs, that the provincial government will not validate further tax sale cancellations.

Home-owners under the Smith plan will be given work cleaning boulevards and ditches and on other work for which the city lacks funds, giving them a chance to work out their tax arrears.

EXPLOSION IS INVESTIGATED

Inquiry Into Blast at Woolwich Arsenal Which Killed Five Men

Canadian Press from Haver, Woolwich, Eng., July 9.—A government investigation is underway here today to determine the cause of the explosion in the government arsenal yesterday which resulted in the death of five persons, with another seriously injured.

The explosion occurred in an isolated hut in the grounds during experiments with a fifteen-inch shell, an authoritative source disclosed. The blast hurled the hut high into the air, completely destroying it.

An eyewitness of the explosion said some of the bodies of the victims were hurled nearly 200 feet from the hut. The bodies were so badly mutilated that relatives had to be called to identify them, it was said.

The names of the dead were announced today as follows: Lieut.-Commander P. A. M. Long, Francis C. Lewis, John Brignell, Stanley H. Cooper and W. E. Johnson.

The injured worker is E. Clark. He was struck by flying debris while working some distance from the experimental hut.

Guards around the arsenal were doubled while the investigation was under way, although preliminary reports indicated the blast was caused by an accident and that there was no question of sabotage.

The research department of the big arsenal employs 7,500 men. The munitions storehouses and factories are spread over such a large area—some 600 acres—that hundreds of the arsenal workers knew nothing of yesterday's explosion until they quit the shops to go home for the night.

Mr. Justice Murphy Grants Ladner Chinese Farmers Injunction Against Highway and Warehouse Ban By Coast Vegetable Marketing Board

Canadian Press Vancouver, July 9.—The B.C. Coast Vegetable Marketing Board has met a reverse in the Supreme Court. Mr. Justice Murphy having granted an injunction restraining it from interfering with Chung Chuek and Mah Lai, Ladner farmers, in the use of the highways and a warehouse for exporting their potatoes.

The injunction extends to Leslie Gilmore of Steveston, A. W. McLean of Cloverdale, and A. H. Peterson of Duncan, members of the board, and S. J. Creech and Harry A. Peterson of Vancouver.

"The only justification for what would otherwise be a most high-handed proceeding is an act of the provincial Legislature which is confined to the province," commented the judge in granting the injunction yesterday.

BLOCKED AT BRIDGE

Attempts of the plaintiffs to transport potatoes to a Vancouver warehouse have been blocked at the Fraser Avenue bridge by the marketing board's officers. On June 24 the defendant Peterson, it was alleged, seized fifty-two sacks of potatoes which Mah Lai was driving to the city. Smaller shipments were seized June 26, June 29 and July 6.

Alfred Bull, K.C., who appeared with G. E. Houser for the Chinese potato farmers, stated that unless his clients were permitted to move their crop the whole of it would be lost. He explained the plaintiffs had no facilities for storing the new potatoes on their farm at Ladner, so had arranged to store the potatoes in a warehouse at Vancouver for export. They did not wish to export through the marketing board because they found the board unsatisfactory, said Mr. Bull.

SUPREME COURT'S RULING

After recounting the history of marketing legislation in British Columbia in recent years, counsel pointed out the Supreme Court of Canada recently had found the Dominion Act ultra vires. The result was that the board had no power to interfere in the export of potatoes out of the province, he stated.

The injunction prohibits the defendants from interfering with the plaintiffs' use of the highways in transporting their potatoes and with storing them in a warehouse, as long as the potatoes are for export. If the plaintiffs take the potatoes out of the warehouse for local trade, the board has its remedy against them under the provincial act, pointed out the judge.

T. G. Norris, counsel for the defendants, asked for an early trial. The judge replied that Mr. Norris would have to show special grounds for a trial during the long vacation.

TWO BIG DAMS COMPLETED

Work Started on Others in Tennessee Valley Project

Associated Press Knoxville, Tenn., July 9.—The Tennessee Valley Authority's $175,000,000 building programme, employing 9,000 men over a vast portion of the south, has swung into full stride with the advance of summer.

The project is designed to control water resources of the Tennessee River and its tributaries to provide navigation, prevent floods and generate electrical energy.

Started in 1933 as a federal "yardstick" to determine utility rates, the far-flung system will not be completed until 1940. The peak of employment is expected to be reached next year.

Two huge concrete barriers—the Norris Dam across the Clinch River in east Tennessee and the Joe Wheeler Dam on the Tennessee River, fifteen miles above Wilson Dam, Alabama—are practically complete.

Work is well along on the Pickwick Landing Dam in the lower Tennessee River in southwestern Tennessee, while excavation work in the first coffee dam is being started at the Guntersville Dam, ten miles below Guntersville, Alabama, and the Chickamauga Dam, seven miles upstream from Chattanooga.

J. E. Perrault Is Quitting Politics

Canadian Press Arthabaska, Que., July 9.—J. E. Perrault, Attorney-General in the Taschereau government, which resigned a few weeks ago, announced today he was retiring from politics.

The veteran political figure announced his decision after a delegation of 1,800 district electors had asked him to seek re-election as a member for Arthabaska county in next month's provincial election.

When he declined to run, it was announced a Liberal convention would be held here July 20 to nominate a candidate.

WOULD RETAIN SCHOOL POST

School Board Opposed to Move to Merge Building Appointments

The city school board yesterday evening appointed a committee of Trustees Percy George, Walter Stenland, John Wallace and W. C. Moresby to interview the City Council in an effort to deter the latter body from seeking legislative power to amalgamate the post of building inspector, a city council position, and building and grounds superintendent, a board appointment.

The council at its last meeting, having received a refusal from the school board to effect such an amalgamation, decided to seek permissive legislation from the government to give the council power to merge the two posts.

Commenting on the action, Trustee George stated the school post was fraught with many peculiarities for which a school board official was needed.

"We are interested in economy at all times, but must have efficiency as well," he stated in reply to a reported comment by certain aldermen the board was not interested in saving money.

Any merger such as that suggested by the council would require amendment of the school act, George H. Deane, municipal inspector, informed the meeting.

Trustee Walter Stenland opposed the motion to interview the council on the question, stating it was purely a matter for the school board.

Trustee Moresby pressed for the interview to deter the council from steps with the government which could give the council power to amalgamate the two posts.

Honor Memory Of Chamberlain

Audience in London Observes Centenary of Chancellor's Father's Birth

Associated Press London, July 9.—A centenary audience, gathered in Albert Hall, paid homage yesterday evening to a fifty-foot floodlight picture of the late Joseph Chamberlain, one of the prominent Conservative leaders at the turn of the century and in the first decade of the twentieth century.

Rt. Hon. Neville Chamberlain, a son of Joseph, is Chancellor of the Exchequer.

Close to 10,000 gathered for yesterday evening's programme in London's largest auditorium. Fifty-foot Union Jacks draped both sides of the picture, which was unveiled during the proceedings. At its base stretched an illuminated map of the empire, guarded by a statue of the British lion with a laurel wreath on its pedestal.

The first part of the programme included a speech by Rt. Hon. L. C. M. S. Amery, former Dominions and Colonial Secretary.

FLAGS CARRIED

A fanfare of trumpets, heralding a procession of standard bearers carrying ninety empire flags, opened the second part of the programme, symbolic of imperial unity.

Sir Austen Chamberlain, former Foreign Secretary and half-brother of Neville, spoke.

Neville, himself, was the central figure in simultaneous celebrations in Birmingham, where his father was buried.

"Britons Alert" and "Think Imperially" were two of the slogans the speakers used.

League Lays Its Platform Before Voters For July 27 General Election

Winnipeg, July 9.—A seven-point programme that includes a basic dividend was placed before the electorate of Manitoba today by the Manitoba Social Credit League.

Termed the basic points on which the league will appeal to voters in the general election July 27, the programme includes guarantees of just prices and fair wages, and refunding of the provincial and municipal debts at lower interest rates without debt repudiation.

1. Economic reorganization of the provincial government, consolidating departments to eliminate duplication.

2. Refunding of provincial and municipal debts at lower interest rates without debt repudiation.

3. Establishment of a provincial credit account to ascertain the province's wealth in capital (material) and vital assets (human productive capacity).

4. Registration of all bona fide citizens to conserve the province's cultural heritage and prevent exploitation.

5. Declaration of basic dividend to guarantee food, clothing and shelter to all.

6. Establishment of a "just price and fair wages," guaranteeing reasonable return to producers and distributors.

7. Issuance of a basic dividend to youth to continue studies until prepared for the business world.

The number of candidates to be placed in the field was still indefinite today. Several names are being suggested to a central committee which will make the final selections for the constituencies—a policy similar to that followed in the Alberta provincial election last August.

Do you want a really glorious tan without any danger of blistering or peeling? Simply do this: Dry the body, then rub NIVEA CREAM or NIVEA SKIN OIL into the arms, legs, back and shoulders and risk of sunburn will be reduced. Your skin will tan to a golden brown without blistering or peeling. NIVEA CREAM promotes healthy tan and is better than common creams because it contains EUCERITE, a substance closely related to the natural oils of the skin.

DO YOU WANT A REALLY GLORIOUS TAN WITHOUT ANY DANGER OF BLISTERING OR PEELING? Simply do this:

Dry the body, then rub NIVEA CREAM or NIVEA SKIN OIL into the arms, legs, back and shoulders and risk of sunburn will be reduced. Your skin will tan to a golden brown without blistering or peeling. NIVEA CREAM promotes healthy tan and is better than common creams because it contains EUCERITE, a substance closely related to the natural oils of the skin.

Arms, Arms, and More Arms

OVER THE CABLES YESTERDAY came the announcement from London that the British government intended to ask Parliament to vote between $75,000,000 and $125,000,000 additional money for defensive purposes—on the navy, the army, and the air force. This afternoon the House of Commons heard the figures set at $98,263,500 with, in addition, $1,468,500 for munition factories. These amounts have to be added to the allocations for the three services in Mr. Neville Chamberlain's budget of last April. In other words, the defence appropriation for the country this year will be approximately $1,000,000,000. It is pointed out, incidentally, that the rate of expenditure on the three fighting services, both actual and potential, is now so great that the Chancellor of the Exchequer admits next year's budget will show a heavy deficit.

What Britain spends on her navy, army, and air force, of course, is Britain's business. She is confronted with a situation in Europe which naturally obliges her to consider her own interests and safety from every point of view. Several years ago she established a lead in disarmament until she weakened herself to a point which the public was solemnly informed was the danger point. The situation had to be so regarded because continental European countries—notably Germany as a potential enemy of Britain—were not only not disarming but actually were adding to their fighting equipment. Germany for some time past has not considered herself bound by the provisions of the Treaty of Versailles or by the Locarno pacts. Premier Baldwin stirred up popular sentiment in support of greater defensive measures when he described Britain's new frontier as the Rhine. In the meantime a generally suspicious European atmosphere has become thicker from month to month.

In view of these new expenditures to which Great Britain is about to commit herself it is interesting to hark back to naval and military budgets of the immediate pre-war days. For example, for the two fiscal years 1913-1914 and 1914-1915 the total defence budget was less than $750,000,000, or $250,000,000 less for two years than for the current fiscal year! Another arresting comparison is furnished by the fact that this year's defence budget is a little less than one-third of Great Britain's national debt in 1914.

Let it be remembered that between 1912 and the late summer of 1914 the armaments race was on with a vengeance in Europe. The taxpayers were told that the only way to preserve peace was to be thoroughly equipped for war. We know the rest of the story. The same old doctrine is being preached with a great deal more fervor today than it was nearly a quarter of a century ago. Between the summer of 1914 and the early winter of 1918 more than ten million men were slaughtered, another twenty million wounded and maimed in a lesser or greater degree, while untold material treasure was dissipated. Yet that was the war to end war, the war in which the flower of the world's manhood wallowed in muck and mire and blood, only to be betrayed in less than two decades afterward by an orgy of spending on the last word in science's diabolical instruments of destruction.

All this is taking place, all this money is being spent when more than thirty million workers throughout the world can not get a job, and many times this number are going hungry—have no means with which to provide themselves even with the minimum requisites of life. The prediction has been made many times that if a major conflict should break out, civilization would meet its doom. But what some people do not seem to understand is that such a major conflict would not only mean the end of the last vestige of democracy; it would mean anarchy and chaos more easily imagined than described.

Up to Sixth Place Again

FIGURES COMPILED BY THE Canadian Bureau of Statistics show that for the calendar year 1935 Canada stood in sixth place among the nations in total international trade, rising from ninth place in 1933 and eighth in 1934. In exports alone Canada held fifth place, and in imports ninth.

In total trade Canada was preceded by the United Kingdom, the United States, Germany, France and Japan, and followed by Belgium, the Netherlands and British India. In exports the United States took first place, being followed in order by the United Kingdom, Germany, France, Canada, Japan, Belgium, British India and Argentina. The nine leading import countries were United Kingdom, United States, Germany, France, Japan, Netherlands, Italy, Belgium and Canada.

In 1920 Canada stood in fourth place for total international trade, during the following decade in fifth, sixth, place, dropped to seventh in 1931 and 1932, to ninth in 1933, and then the improvement began.

Springboards, Not Platforms

ONCE A PARTY PLATFORM was something for a candidate to stand on. From current comment in the press, we learn that it is becoming in the United States what it has too often proved to be in Canada, a springboard—something for a candidate to dive from.

The statements recently adopted by the Republicans at Cleveland and the Democrats at Philadelphia are not accepted as all-inclusive definitions of party aims and beliefs. Indeed, they are taken only as the irreducible minimum, the foundations on which candidates are privileged to erect nearly any kind of edifice they choose. These platforms were designedly framed to be all things to all men. Their makers, indeed, seemed to pride themselves on that fact. In each case they tried, apparently, to put together something that would hold out hope to the Liberals and reassurance to the Conservatives; something that would permit their candidates, if elected, to go in almost any direction without doing violence to the compendium of party beliefs. The ink was not dry on the Republican platform before Governor Landon undertook to clarify some of its vaguer points on the social welfare issues; at Philadelphia, President Roosevelt's speech was infinitely more important than the collection of phrases Senator Wagner's platform committee put together.

The fact is that this year's platforms merely reflect the confusion and the cross-purposes which exist in the parties that wrote them. They are vague and wishy-washy because the parties do not know quite where they are going. A party which is half-conservative and half-liberal cannot be expected to declare itself plainly on issues of conservatism and liberalism. That is the dilemma of both parties over there.

Marital Childishness

MR. JUSTICE MANSON SAYS from the bench of the British Columbia Supreme Court that this province appeared to be on its way to rival Reno in its divorce rate. Dr. Edward S. Lindeman, an eastern social worker, declares that the person who seeks a divorce is fundamentally childish. Such a person is in an unhappy situation, with an overwhelming desire to put the blame on someone or something outside himself; consequently, he blames his marriage partner—or possibly he blames the institution of marriage itself—and rushes off to the divorce court.

There is sound truth in this. There never yet was a marriage which did not, at times, sorely try the patience of one or both of its participants. But a truly adult person is or should be able to reinforce that patience for a long time before seeking the childish cure of a change.

Radio Changing Oratory

THE RADIO IS PUTTING THE old-style political orator at a discount. What price, now, the booming voice, the impassioned gestures, the hoarse crescendo, the restless pacing of the platform? The microphone wants a voice that is soft and well modulated; it has no use for gestures, and it absolutely bars lunging and pacing. The old-style orator compares with the radio variety as a grand opera singer compares with a crooner.

The orator nowadays can never forget that the audience in front of him is not a thousandth part of his radio audience. He cannot talk directly to them; he must pick every word and every inflection with his invisible but more numerous listeners in mind. They are more cold and critical, sheltered from the play of mass emotions.

Notes

We note that Eddie Freed is detained while a killing is investigated in Chicago. What is in a name, anyway?

A society page head reads, "League of Nations Garden Party." Some have suspected that for a couple of years.

Men worry about their figures fully as much as women according to delegates to this week's Home Economics Convention in Seattle. But there is a difference between a bank balance and a scale balance.

There is this to be said for Turkey in her demand for revision of the Straits Convention and for permission to re-fortify the Dardanelles, she did not go ahead with plans she had in mind and leave the matter to be discussed afterward. She has not followed the examples set by Japan and Germany, and it was fitting that the British and other delegates should congratulate her on her observance of the law.

The recent session of the American Association of University Women indicates a healthful trend toward greater feminine leadership. In the last six years 52,000 women have joined under this banner with the common goal of civic leadership and good neighborliness. Woman is finding the key to a sound national life. One only hopes that the men are doing as well!

Britain's Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden has told the House of Commons that he does not propose again to ask the Hitler government for a reply to the Locarno questionnaire recently submitted to it. Once more the question crops up: Can this man Hitler, always stoutly claiming his country's desire for peaceful relationship with its neighbors, be trusted either with the spoken or written word?

Loose Ends

The C.C.F. accepts the Marx Brothers—and the snake oil—another prisoner is discovered—Nature is hard—and the turtles are Popeye and Olive Oil.

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

MARX BROTHERS

THE MARXISTS have taken control of the C.C.F. at its convention, but the Marxism which they have imported into the new party platform does not come from Karl but seems to be derived rather from the four Marx Brothers. The good Telford, witch doctor of provincial socialism, is now in the saddle and, while formerly the patent medicines and snake oil which he sold over the radio were harmless enough, it now represents the declared policy of one of the major political parties of this province. As a medicine man and whirling dervish, the doctor will have few equals in a government leader he might leave something to be desired.

The C.C.F. organization, if not the body of the movement, was captured at the recent convention not by Marxism, but by socialists; by Abernethianism, pure and undefiled. The party has gone on record as promising an attempt to socialize the finance and money system of British Columbia as distinct from the rest of Canada, and that means one of two things (1) secession from Canada, since we cannot remain under the Canadian constitution and do any such thing, or (2) Abernethianism and the grand bluff which the Social Crediters are running in Alberta but which has just about run out.

The programme laid down by Mr. McConnell in the Legislature was—constitutional and possible, whether you agreed with it or not. The programme laid down in the party convention is moonshine. The people of British Columbia will not accept it, if they know what it means. Neither will the C.C.F. men in the House. But the best thing about platform is that they are always forgotten the day after being drafted; usually the same night.

Maybe the people can forget that the official party platform is pure moonshine of the Abernethian variety, but I don't think they can forget Dr. Telford. If the C.C.F. wants to get elected, it had better unload (1) the present platform and (2) the doctor. A party which hasn't the sense to take a man like Mr. McConnell as leader as against a man like Dr. Telford, and a programme like Mr. McConnell's instead of a programme made up of Abernethianism, snake oil and the Marx Brothers, hasn't grown yet into adolescence and the years of discretion. It may have a year or so before the election in which to grow up and wear long pants, but it will have to hurry.

PRISONER

A TENDER-HEARTED MAN writes me that while we have all been shedding tears by the gallows over the fate of the little white bear in Beacon Hill Park, we have done nothing about a much sadder case, the case of the little black bear confined in the home for the criminally insane out on Wilkenson Road. I have not seen the little black bear at the asylum and I cannot vouch for its existence, but it is a sad thing to think that a perfectly sane brain is confined in such an institution even if it is inside the head of a bear.

The brains which should be so confined are not those of the bear but of the people who conceived the original notion of imprisoning any wild animal for the amusement of the more brutal tame animal called man. If such people were locked up and the bears let out we might have more sanity and kindness in the world.

OLD CUSTOM

IN MORLEY'S RECOLLECTIONS (if you will pardon my mentioning them again)—there is a bit about the final retirement of Gladstone which is really delightful in the light of modern political practice. Gladstone came to the cabinet one day and said he could not agree with the navy estimates proposed by the First Lord of the Admiralty. A list of the cabinet intimated that they favored the estimates. If that were the case, said Gladstone, why, of course, he could no longer "co-operate with honor" in such a cabinet and would go next day to the Queen and present the resignation of his government; which he did without further argument, without any attempt to compromise his viewpoint with that of his colleagues, without the least jockeying or log rolling. That was the end of his career in public life.

We don't do things that way nowadays. Nearly all our cabinets appear to be in perpetual disagreement but hardly anyone resigns on matters of principle. The present Prime Minister of England has been utterly stultified half a dozen times on his foreign policy in the last six months and the present foreign secretary has been made a monkey of, but neither of them has resigned. Probably it is just as well. Probably, if they were resigned every time they were in disagreement during these troublous times we should have no government lasting more than a fortnight.

NATURE

AS I WAS WRITING the solemn thought above, sitting here on the porch of the cabin above the lake, and watching a yellow butterfly glistening in the sun, a cat from another cottage came slinking through the brush. After a moment I realized that it was stalking a little brown bird which is a pet of ours and comes here for bread-crumbs every morning regularly.

Nothing is more distressing than a cruel animal like a cat (which some people keep as pets by their fireside) attacking a beautiful bird which never harms anything in nature. So I rushed out and threw at the cat the first thing which came to my hand (it happened to be a valuable ashtray) and scared it away.

The brown bird, the harmless benign creature, at that moment swooped down on the golden butterfly and tore it to pieces with its beak. Nature lessons are disillusioning at first hand and life is hard at our lake.

TURTLES

NATURE IS HARD, but sometimes spectacular. Take the turtles that Joan and Dickie from across the bay have just introduced into the wild life of these regions. Each of them has a beautiful flower on the back of its shell, in bright color, and each carries its name, printed in white. One is "Popeye," and the other is "Olive Oil." I asked Joan and Dickie how nature, not reading the comic strips, had been aware of these immortal names when it designed the shells of the turtles, but they explained with great detail and patience that an artist had painted the designs. These must be hard times in art when a skilled artist has to come down to painting turtle shells for a living.

"Artists," I ventured, "must have gone down pretty low to do that work." "Yes," said the little girl, "they do." "They don't go down. They bring the turtles up to the top of the water to paint them." Now we understand.

YES, VICTORIA IS THE PLACE

To the Editor:—My son and myself went to Victoria and stayed in the month, probably throughout the whole winter, a furnished cottage of three or four rooms with a garden by the sea. Is it possible to get such places where one may enjoy life?

NEED RESPECT FOR TITLES

To the Editor:—I was glad to see the letter of "Pax" of Cobble Hill in the paper last night disapproving of Mr. Merriman's article which placed Count Van Ouden on a somewhat ridiculous light.

The trouble with this country is there are too many people like Mr. Merriman who are always looking for a chance to make fun of anyone who has a title.

From the way I hear people here talk, it is considered good form to joke about anyone who has a title, often as a sort of bluff, instead of according him the honor that is due because of his rank.

I can tell Canadians that they will never be a great people and have until they know how to respect their betters and accord honor where honor is due.

EX-MARGATE

THIS "AWFUL YOUNGER GENERATION"

To the Editor:—Today at Beacon Hill Park I was reminded of the fact that so many of the "old folk" deplore the younger generation's manners.

Often have I heard these words: "What is this generation coming to? When I was a child, things were different. I was far more respectful to my parents and country than are this new generation. I . . . I . . ."

One of the most important things in life today is respect to one's King and Country. To this, I think, all will agree.

At Beacon Hill this afternoon, the orchestra, under the direction of Mr. W. Tickle, started its programme with O Canada. At the opening bars of this, I saw three boys get out of their car and stand smartly to attention in the rain until the piece was finished. I noticed, also, that only one in every ten (if that) of the older generation even stood up. Yet these same people persist in telling us all what wonderful children they were. What has happened to these golden qualities? Surely these people are as wonderful men and women as they were children!

It seems to me that the "awful younger generation" have a great deal more respect for their country than have those who comprise that sect of our society who were different when they were children.

DEAD PAUPERS DON'T WORRY

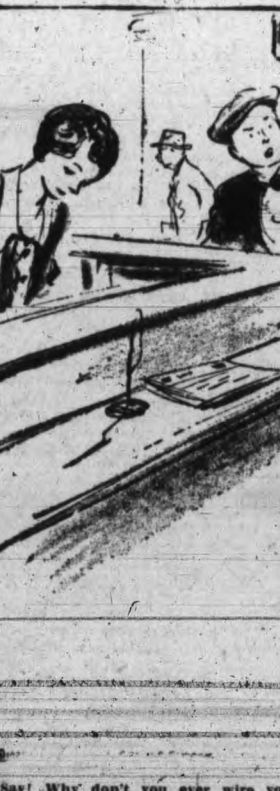

To the Editor:—I was interested in the letters of both J. O. Simson and William Crouch, Reeve of Saanich. In response to Mr. Simson's inquiry, which I am sure was out of a sympathetic heart, I do not think the average man and woman on relief are much concerned about where or how they are buried; not so much, physically where we go when we die, as spiritually where our souls go.

We are more concerned how to live. If some of us had more of the necessities of life, we would not be hurried into untimely graves through ill-health brought on through insufficient relief assistance. Nor do we consider who thinks of us as paupers after we are gone. It is the feeling of being a so-called "pauper" that hurts now and having to stand in line for a paltry hand-out with so much red tape.

Yes, I'm sure all credit is due, as Reeve Crouch says, to Victoria undertakers. But I differ with him about everything being as it is.

SIDE GLANCES

By George Clark

"Say! Why don't you ever wire your folks, when we're broke?"

would be if we were able to pay a large amount, as he states. You get exactly what you pay for in this world, nothing more, nothing less—both physically and financially.

Mr. Crouch is right when he states he would have no grounds for complaint. Not our complaints would be too late then.

But I am afraid some of our relief workers' wives could do quite a little complaining right here.

As for people getting the impression that the "paupers" are just dumped off anywhere, I don't suppose the average one gives a thought as to how his fellow-man survives, much less as to how he is buried.

I just would like your readers to know how the main parties concerned feel. I am sure I express the feeling of many.

RELIEF WIFE.

C.C.F. APPEAL

To the Editor:—I noticed the letter, signed "Common Sense," commenting on my letter on Major Hooper and his address. Why not give your name, "Common Sense"? I did not take advantage of the question period, because, as a member of the audience I was limited to questions. I knew Major Hooper would reply as he did in his letter—"When none was for the party but all were for the state," etc.—Horatius.

I agree with his ethics absolutely. That is what our Communist Party, the C.C.F., stands for.

The C.C.F. is best both for foreign Socialist agents and supporters and capitalist interests, which put relentlessly their own party policies before the people's needs. All you Socialists who are sincerely out to help those who are oppressed, to bring economic security and all that entails to the nation, fall in behind the C.C.F. banner and urge others to do so. When possible, join a C.C.F. club, pay your dues and use your votes and influence in them. Standing vaguely as just a Socialist, joining non-party organizations, means opposing just what you stand for; supporting the tactics to bring war and ruin.

I take this opportunity of asking if an audited account has yet been issued from the Citizens' Defence League and the C.C.F. of the funds collected by them for the defence of the twenty-two camp boys; as to how much was collected in all villages and towns and how the money was allotted. Arthur Evans also collected for the appeals. The public supported this fund at great sacrifice and has the right to know details.

I believe in Major Hooper's sincerity, but though he has traveled in China, and Russia, he certainly has not studied the situation in Canada, and what he has learned is from one small minority whose policy is likely to give Fascism the opportunity it will certainly seize. Then the last state will be worse than the first—very much so.

The overwhelming vote of confidence in our leader, Rev. Robert Connell at the convention last week-end, bears out my statement in this letter—to all who know the truth.

MRS. A. COLCLOUGH.

VIEW ROYAL

IN GOLF CLUB LOCKER ROOMS

Clarence Budington Kelland in The Saturday Evening Post.

Nowhere in the world, not in famine-stricken China, nor in the African jungles where strange afflictions pervade the bodies of men, nor in the paintings of a Gauguin or a Picasso, are to be seen such spectacles as disclose themselves in the locker rooms of golf clubs when gentlemen disrobe to enter the showers. One loses his confidence in the labors of nature. One feels that, perhaps, all is not right with the world. But one does have this faith restored in the courage of individual man that he dare thus stand unafraid and unashamed before his fellows.

GERMANY ALWAYS DID

BLAME IT ON THE JEW;

HITLER COPIES DARK AGES

ALL THROUGH history it has been the fate of the German Jew to be a scapegoat for the sins and failures of his rulers. From the break-up of the Roman Empire to the reign of Hitler, it has been the German custom to blame the Jews when anything went wrong. As a result, almost every generation has experienced at least one bloody persecution.

This is brought out in Marvin Lowenthal's interesting new book, "The Jews of Germany" (Longmans-Green), which traces the race's history beyond the Rhine from Roman days to the present.

Always, he points out, the Jews were an oppressed people in Germany, and always the lords of the land found them a very useful means of diverting popular wrath.

When famine came in the Middle Ages, when the people got fed up with the senseless wars of the barons and princes, when city folk found prices high and wages low—always, over and over again, the lords of the land would blame it on the Jews and horrible pogroms would follow.

Hitler has simply copied one of the oldest devices of the Dark Ages. And Hitler, says Mr. Lowenthal, may end by annihilating altogether the Jews of Germany. His "cold pogrom" is as remorseless as any of its predecessors; it is, apparently, considerably more efficient. Mr. Lowenthal believes, quite possible that another generation will find Germany a Jewish country.

TAIT FOUND NOT GUILTY

No Theft Or Breach of Trust in Case, Judge J. N.
Ellis Finds

C. Harold Tait was found not guilty of charges including theft and breach of trust in a lengthy judgment made by Judge J. N. Ellis in County Court yesterday. The charges arose out of the handling by Mr. Tait of a sum of $400, allegedly the property of Charles Desford, or, under the second set of charges, the property of O. H. Handley, given to Mr. Tait to bank by F. J. H. Van Oudenol and later paid back by Mr. Tait to Van Oudenol. "I cannot see how Tait could very well refuse to pay back the money Van Oudenol had paid to him, assuming, of course, he was not apprised of the fact the money belonged to Handley or Desford," the judge commented.

The facts showed, he continued, that the money had been given to the accused under conditions which justified his retaining of it to the person from whom he had received the sum. The judge complimented Henry C. Hall, K.C., on the manner in which he had elicited information from cross-examination which left nothing undone that should have been done. There was no doubt in his mind, Judge Ellis said, that Van Oudenol and Potter were the guilty persons in the case.

He referred to conflict in testimony, saying he did not think Desford or Handley were trying to misrepresent facts, but were confused over dates. The judgment was delivered immediately after Mr. Hall had presented his argument, which followed the brief argument of Stuart Henderson, counsel for the defence.

FOUR WINNIPEG VISITORS HERE

G. E. Carpenter of Winnipeg, secretary of the prairie division of the Canadian Manufacturers Association and C. E. Trimm, treasurer of the Great West Life Assurance Company of Winnipeg, accompanied by their wives, arrived in Victoria yesterday. The party is vacationing by car through Western Canada and United States. From Winnipeg they motored to Banff, thence to Lake Louise, south to Spokane, then to Seattle and Vancouver, where they crossed to Nanaimo. From this point they went to Campbell River and saw Elk Falls.

Mr. Carpenter, while visiting T. J. Goodlake, secretary of the local branch of the C.M.A., yesterday stated the party had a wonderful time while visiting various points on the island. The visitors will stay here until Saturday.

Britannia Branch Asks Assistance for Former Canadian Prisoners of War

An unspent balance of $18,000.000 is in the possession of the War Reparations Commission at Ottawa. It was made known at a meeting of the Britannia Branch of the Canadian Legion held Tuesday evening, and members were unanimous in their opinion that at least a portion of this sum should be spent to assist ex-service men who are suffering from disabilities sustained in internment camps.

A resolution was drafted, after debate on the question had taken place, urging the commission to immediately assist former Canadian prisoners of war. These men are unable to secure aid at the present time because they are not listed on the medical history sheets. It was made known, C. F. Dawson, president, announced the plea will be forwarded to Ottawa forthwith.

The district council of the Canadian Legion will be asked to take action on the question of members of the branch receiving considerable aid and then asking for transfer to another unit.

Members stressed that other ex-service men's organizations in the city should back the Britannia Branch's move for the establishment of an airport in Victoria.

Duncan Finances In Good Shape

Duncan, July 9.—At the Duncan City Council meeting Tuesday Mayor James Oreg and City Clerk E. S. Fox were appointed delegates to the annual convention of the Union of B.C. Municipalities in Vernon on September 22 and 23.

A request of the Cowichan branch of the Canadian Legion for permission to alter the sidewalk opposite their clubhouse to allow access to a vacant lot next door was left to the streets committee for decision.

Freak Potato Looks Like Victoria's Sea Serpent

The strange looking thing shown in the above picture is only a potato which was brought to the newsroom of The Times by a man who rushed away without leaving his name or address. It looked so much like Cadborosaurus, Victoria's sea serpent, that the artist painted an eye on it. The green shoots sprouting out at the "head" end of the potato might be whiskers, or some denizen of the deep that "Caddy" is eating, while the fungus at the end could easily be its tail.

GETS SET OF EXTRA TRICK

Opponent Certain of Defeating Game by One Round But Fine Playing Forces Declarer Down Two

By WM. E. MCKENNEY

Through such national events as the coming summer tournament of the American Bridge League, at which the famous masters' pair game is staged, bridge players in the east have learned that some of the greatest experts have addresses far west of the Hudson River.

One of the probable participants in the masters' pair game at Asbury Park, N.J., the week of August 3, is Harry Auslander, unquestionably one of the outstanding bridge players of Pittsburgh. An example of this fine defensive play is given in today's hand in which he held the South hand, and was opposing a contract of four spades, doubled.

Of course, the contract is always down one trick; but that did not quite satisfy Auslander. He decided to try to defeat the contract two tricks.

The means by which he accomplished this result were quite interesting. He overtook the diamond king with the ace and led back a heart into the ace, queen, ten showing in dummy.

He did not know or care whether his partner held the king and jack, and thus a possible though improbable

Maintain Stand On Short Term

City School Board Still Supports Three-year High Option

The City School Board is not through with its efforts to secure a permissive three-year high school course for apt students who could complete matriculation in less than the general four-year term.

At its meeting yesterday evening the board appointed Trustee W. C. Moresby chairman; Trustee Percy George, Trustee Kenneth Ferguson, and George H. Deane, municipal inspector, a committee of four to interview the deputy minister of education on the question.

Discussion on the matter opened with the reading of a tabled letter from Dr. S. J. Willis, deputy minister, stating a move for a three-year high school course was considered as a retrograde action.

Mr. Deane explained that when the four-year course was first prescribed by the department there was a stipulation allowing students to matriculate in three years. It was left in a large measure to the principal to give those students capable of completing the course in three years the opportunity to do so, he said.

LARGELY FOUR-YEAR TERM

Owing to curricular requirements in recent years, the number of students completing their studies in three years was decreasing, he said, although the vast majority of first-class honor students matriculating last year were those completing the course in the shorter term. At present Victoria High School was from 70 to 80 per cent organized on a four-year basis, the municipal inspector added.

Trustee Ferguson noted until recently the board had not been informed of the big swing towards the four-year course and a move which aimed to retain the three-year permissive term could hardly be retrograde when it was still in practice.

NO FORCE

Speaking in favor of continuance of the permissive three-year course, Trustee Moresby contradicted the inference in the deputy minister's letter that the board was trying to "force" students to take that course. It was not a question of "force" at all, he said, but the board did not see why those capable of completing the course in the shorter term should be retarded.

Trustee George thought the deputy minister's letter evasive. The trustee approved of a four-year course for the normal and less brilliant students, if they required that time, but thought the three-year term should be retained for those who could manage it. He cited enrollment figures basing the first-year classes on 100 per cent. In comparison, as far as numbers were concerned, a survey of four and five years showed only 73 per cent of that total continued in second year and only 45 per cent entered the matriculation class.

LOSS OF STUDENTS

"In my opinion this loss of students is a serious proposition," the trustee commented before suggesting the curricular revision committee should consider the matter along with proposals for a curriculum which would be more suitable to the majority. He was sorry the department had taken the attitude it had, Trustee George said.

Trustee Ferguson brought in the motion to table the letter from the deputy minister and have a delegation from the board meet the minister. His motion was passed and the committee struck.

Mr. Deane noted the four-year course was built around the premise that students should have the opportunity of four years' extra training after grade school in order to meet the department's objective of studying subjects which would equip them to a greater degree for life.

Trustee Moresby drew attention to the case of the grade school child who had been retarded through illness and entered high school at the age of fourteen or fifteen. He felt such children should have the opportunity to catch up on their studies through a three-year course leading to matriculation.

Such a tasty Meat Pie wins the applause of everyone!

A FEAST of tasty goodness that no one can resist. That's the difference Yorkshire Relish makes to all your meat dishes.

It takes four years to make a bottle of Yorkshire Relish. Its flavor is matured from more than 20 carefully selected fruits, vegetables, herbs, spices, essences, measured and blended with test tube accuracy, steeped in cool vats for four years to produce this mellow, piquant, flavorful sauce.

Yorkshire Relish does you good, too. Its aromatic herbs and spices stimulate the gastric juices and help digestion.

Recipe for Rideau Meat Pie

1 lb. top round steak.
3 lamb's kidneys.
1 sliced onion.
2½ tablespoons butter.

1 cup boiling water.
2 tablespoons Yorkshire Relish.
2 tablespoons flour.
½ teaspoon salt. 4 teaspoon pepper.

Cut steak into 1-inch cubes. Soak, pare, and cut kidneys in fine cubes. Try out fat removed from steak; add onion and stir till browned. Add meat and 1 tablespoon butter; stir constantly until well browned. Remove to stew-pan. To fat remaining in pan add boiling water and strain; add Yorkshire Relish, salt, pepper. Pour over meat, and cook slowly on back of range until tender. Strain off liquid remaining in pan and thicken with remaining butter and flour. Cool meat, turn into baking dish, pour over half the sauce, reserving the remainder to serve with pie. Place strip of paste on rim of dish, brush with cold water, put on cover of paste after cutting hole in center. Garnish with a braid of paste and four diamond-shaped pieces. Around edge make a row of parallel creases, ½-inch apart, using back of knife. Between each a crease, snip paste three times with scissors. Bake in hot oven until pastry is brown.

See how flavorful Yorkshire Relish is. Pour a few drops into a teaspoon, then sip it. What flavor! Hot, yet sweet; no other sauce can impart such delicious flavor to your cooking.

"Schuhuum" Revel Drew Crowd

Conservative Women
Hostesses At
Miss Agnew's Home

Conservatives and their friends in large numbers attended the alfresco "Gypsy Carnival" held yesterday afternoon in the spacious grounds of "Schuhuum," Rockland Avenue, the home of Miss Agnew, the affair being sponsored by the Women's Conservative Association.

Mrs. R. A. Woodson, wife of the president of the Conservative Association, formally opened the affair, after being introduced by Mrs. R. D. Harvey, the general convenor. She tendered a graceful expression of thanks to Miss Agnew, the hostess, and Miss Belle Dubree, who directed the "Gypsy Revel," which was a colorful feature. Miss Agnew, who read a message of greeting and good wishes from Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett was presented by little Margot Bowden, on behalf of the association, with a charming colonial banner, made by Miss Alice Pooley. Mrs. Woodson receiving a similar bouquet. The gypsy revel was staged on the tennis lawn, the performers singing and dancing in colorful costume. Mme. Dobree directed the delightful entertainment, and also ably acted as accompanist. Those taking the vocal part included Thelma Kademias, Muriel Jordan, Alexis Sutcliffe, Mrs. Gaiger, J. W. Buckler, Mrs. J. Laming, Isabel Crawford, Mrs. Badger, and dances were given by pupils of Miss Florence Clough and Miss Dorothy Fox.

Afternoon tea was served in the rose garden under the trees, and was in charge of Mrs. C. H. Smith, Mrs. Herbert Anson, Mrs. Hugh Allan, Mrs. T. Hammett, Mrs. K. Brown and Mrs. W. Higgins, while Mrs. A. Chamberlain sold ice cream. The candy stall was in charge of Mrs. Burrows, Mrs. J. E. Branson and Mrs. J. B. Thomson; Mme. Mobius gave phonological readings; Mrs. G. W. Edgar and Mrs. W. G. M. Rolston were at the gate. Bridge, convened by Mrs. R. A. Woodson and Mrs. S. R. Bowden, was played in the house, the winners at contract being: First, Mrs. J. Gorman; second, Mrs. J. L. Ford, and consolation, Mrs. A. V. Wallston. Mrs. B. Ripley won the picture presented by Mrs. Lismore, and Mrs. V. Weston won the doll.

Church of Our Lord Fete Big Success

Social and financial success rewarded the efforts of the Ladies' Aid of the Church of Our Lord yesterday afternoon, at their garden party in the delightful gardens at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Snape, Tattersall Drive, proving a popular success. Mrs. H. Shandley, Mrs. Cowper Newbury, Misses Mabel Hawthorne, M. Law, J. Cromack, "Pat" Taylor, Helen Stevens, Aimee O. Heddie, Jean Appleyard, LeGallais, Mary Newman, F. Turner and Jessie Knowles; ice cream was sold by Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Martin; candy by the Misses Murray; flowers and cherries, Mrs. M. S. Duke; home cooking, Miss D. Lloyd and Mrs. M. G. Hornaby.

Other attractions included Miss Muriel Creech as the "Lady of a Thousand Pockets," Aunt Sally, in charge of Miss A. A. Chamberlain; flowers and cherries, Mrs. M. S. Duke; home cooking, Miss D. Lloyd and Mrs. M. G. Hornaby. The racing fish, in charge of Miss Hester Duke, and the hidden money, supervised by Captain E. G. Snape. Mr. Frank Merryfield amused everyone with his tricks of magic.

Student Nurses Were Hostesses

Student nurses of St. Joseph's Hospital welcomed about 250 guests at their enjoyable garden party in the hospital gardens yesterday afternoon, the proceeds materially augmenting their tennis court fund. The Sister Superior and many of the sisters and several of the parish priests were also present. Brisk business was done at the candy booth, in the show arbor, in charge of Miss J. Phillips and Miss J. Daem, and tea was served at flower-decked tables scattered about the lawn, those in charge being Miss I. Scott, Miss L. Powell, Miss E. Robinson, Miss R. McCaig, Miss M. Dugal, Miss D. Rawson and Miss B. Slater. At the gate were Miss E. Tevine, Miss V. Bastedo and Miss Ford. Bowler's Boys' Band played a programme of selections which added much to the pleasure of the afternoon.

Express Sympathy To Bereaved Judge

The bench formally expressed its sincere sympathy to the family of Judge J. C. McIntosh over the loss of his son, Captain D. E. McIntosh, killed in a transport plane crash in Egypt yesterday. Judge J. N. Ellis, before proceeding with a speedy trial in County Court yesterday, voiced his condolences. Henry C. Hall, K.C., joined the judge in an expression on behalf of the bar to which Stuart Henderson added words of sympathy.

To wish "bon voyage" to Mrs. E. M. Shribbs of London, Ontario, who have been visiting in Victoria with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Dodd, for the past five weeks, a surprise party was held in her honor at the home of Mrs. William Blair, 1364 Hillside Avenue, on Monday evening. The evening was spent playing bridge, the prize-winners being: First, Mrs. Gerald Lane, and consolation, Mrs. E. Shribbs. Supper was served at a prettily arranged table centred with a low bowl of crimson roses and lighted with ebony tapers. During supper the guest of honor was presented with a farewell gift with the good wishes of the following: Mrs. Arthur Dodd, Mrs. Edward Stewart, Mrs. Albert Hockley, Mrs. Hugh Palin, Mrs. Robert Patterson, Mrs. Gerald Lane, Mrs. Warren Smith, Mrs. W. R. Elford and Mrs. William Blair. Mrs. Shribbs left for Ontario on Tuesday afternoon, and will visit relatives in Toronto, St. Thomas and in Detroit, Michigan.

City school board offices will be closed for the first two weeks in August to give the staff its regular summer vacation, as the result of action taken by the board yesterday evening.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

CLAIRE FOSDICK sets out to drive to the lonely mountain home left her by her eccentric uncle, LYMAN FOSDICK. Claire is trying to decide whether to marry NICK BAUM, to whom she owes money, or to marry the handsome and mysterious stranger who has been hiding in the house.

Her car is wrecked by a log across the road. PAT MAGAN, an old friend and BOB STEELE, young engineer, arrive on the scene and take Claire to the mountain house where EB SPRATT and his sister, SUSIE, are caretakers.

Claire sees a curious arrow carved on the wall of an upstairs bedroom and, lamp in hand, follows the arrow to the cupola. A noiseless bullet shatters the lamp.

Next morning EB Spratt disappears, and Claire finds the grounds had been sketched for her by the late Lyman FOSDICK. She goes to the house where EB SPRATT and his sister, SUSIE, are caretakers.

Now go on with the story.

CHAPTER VI

Disregarding the rain which had become a steady downpour, the two men, Claire, Hannah and Susie all rushed to the aspen grove. The figure lying there, just as Hannah had said, Pat ran forward with a little cry.

"Bob! It's Bob!" Quickly he turned him over. When he looked up, Pat's face was pale. "He's alive," he said, "but that's about all."

"The first thing is to get him up to the house," Dan Dallas announced in a matter-of-fact tone. "You take his feet, Magan, and we'll ease him up the hill."

The women fell in behind, and as they trudged along Hannah hastily sketched for Claire the happenings at home since her departure. "Nick Baum phoned and asked if you had come home yet," I said. "No," he asked. "I know when you were coming and I said 'no' again. He said he hoped you'd make it soon. I got on the ground to look after Claire. What's the matter with EB anyway?"

Claire told her about EB's mysterious disappearance. A grunt was Hannah's only reply. Then she added, "High time I was taking a hand in things round here."

"Yes. Best thing you do, Hannah—take a hand in things," Susie shot back a venomous glance.

No love had ever been lost between the two women. That was why Claire seldom brought Hannah to the house in the mountains. Now she hastened to smooth things over.

"Better go on ahead, Susie, and get the north bedroom ready for Mr. Steele."

After the patient had been made as comfortable as possible and Susie had gone back to the kitchen, Claire dispatched Dan Dallas. There, she told Hannah of all the strange happenings at the House of Long Shadows. Pat hovered over his friend, anxiously watching for any change in his condition.

"The Doc may know something about EB being down at the town," Hannah suggested. "Anyway it won't do no good to let the police come messin' inter things, when there ain't a thing but a cap to show 'em."

"That's why Bob was going down to find out himself," answered Pat. "Looks as though the opposition was engaged in picking off our men, one by one."

Hannah snorted and squared her shoulders. "Don't forget you got me now, mister. I've looked across a knife at a ragin' devil of an Injun, and I'm alive to tell it. Guess I can do something 'bout this water-evil-it-is, that's kickin' up a ruckus round here."

A faint smile touched Pat's lips.

"I'm betting you can do just that," he told her.

The shower was over now, and after what seemed an interminable wait, the doctor came, followed by Dallas. The man of medicine was a fat little person with a cheery, red face, and an unpronounceable name. Immediately he took off his coat and went to work. Expertly the doctor's gentle fingers moved over Bob's prostrate form to the accompaniment of little chuckles of sympathy. At last he straightened up.

"A bad rap on the head, that's all. Oh, yes, young man, he'll pull through okay. Don't look so downcast." He addressed Pat. Diving suddenly into his bag, he drew out a bottle.

"Here, take the swig of this. You look as though you needed it."

Pat grinned sheepishly, but obeyed. "I suppose he fell and hit his head on a boulder or something," the doctor went on. "Lucky you came on him when you did."

When the doctor was ready to leave Claire asked the question that was uppermost in everybody's mind. "Have you seen EB in the village to-day, Doctor?"

"No, not for almost a month now," he answered. "The village doctor, you know, so EB hasn't been coming down. He always drops into the drug store when he does show up, and since I'm apt to be there I'm almost sure to run into him. I went down there early this morn'g, so I would have been certain to see him. Why?"

"We were just looking for him, that's all, Doc," replied Pat. "That's how we happened to discover that Bob'd been hurt."

"Well, keep the patient absolutely quiet, and I'll come out tomorrow to see how he is." The doctor shook hands with Claire. "And don't worry," was his final admonition as he breezed out the door.

"Hum, easier said than done," mumbled Hannah grimly.

Pat followed the doctor downstairs. After the ancient car had chugged off down the winding road he walked down toward Dan Dallas' cabin intending to demand the gun. The bullet that Bob had dug out of the cupola wall was now in Pat's pocket, and he was going to find out if it was the same rifle. If it did, he would have a showdown with Dan at once. He felt sure that Dallas knew more than he was telling.

But Pat did not reach the cabin. As he made his way around the edge of the aspen grove, he saw something moving up the winding trail on Squaw Mountain. He stopped and watched. A man in white was plainly visible, weaving his way in and out along the curving loops of the path. For a minute Susie's fantastic story of the white miner rushed back to Pat's mind.

"Apple sauce!" He said it aloud. "Then he started off at a brisk run to follow. If there really was a white apparition he would soon know it."

The steepness of the trail slowed down his impetuous pace to a steady effort. He had time to review again the events since the evening before. The old house, crouching Sphinx-like in the shadow of the huge twin-topped pine. Murders of the night in the dark. EB gone—and now Bob lying seriously injured. Things like that just didn't happen, not in this unromantic day.

Pat had come quite a way. Those trees that had towered above him a few minutes ago now were spindling tops. He looked across at the FOSDICK house, thinking that the arrow mark in Lyman FOSDICK's bedroom certainly pointed in this direction, too. Could it have meant, after all, something as far distant as Squaw Mountain?

It is understood, of course, that the modern child indulges in outdoor sports, as well as swimming, badminton, volleyball, and similar indoor activities during the winter. Clothing worn by growing children should be adapted to such exercises.

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel"

FRIDAY, JULY 10, 1936

Astrologers read this as an important day in planetary direction. In the early morning hours it is subject to adverse influences of various sorts. Under this configuration many people who have gained fame may close their mortal eyes. Sad deaths are foretold for authors, statesmen and professional men.

This is an auspicious day for signing important documents. Partnerships may be formed, but be careful, since agreement is prevalent.

The stars forecast a political sensation that will be a boomers' dream. The most intense partisans in the national campaign will be seen to do battle. There will be a surprise victory for the underdog.

Foreign investments now will awaken anxiety among American financiers. Over the many complications disturbing to bankers.

Foods and diets will focus attention. The fishing industry will be aided through a method of increasing demand for tinned products of both salt and fresh waters. Persons whose birthday it is have the augury of a year of prosperity. Those whose birthday it is have the augury of a year of prosperity. Those whose birthday it is have the augury of a year of prosperity.

Instead of starting his prisoners to death, Attila, the Hun, sometimes known as "The Scourge of God," made them eat themselves to death. Liquids and coarse food were forced down the victims' throats until they choked. Attila lived in 435 A.D.

A gleam of white ahead made him bend his shoulders and once more take up the rocky trail. He began to save his breath and energy, stopping at brief intervals, then trudging on again. Whatever else the man in white might be, he was sure a bang-up mountain climber. Pat decided after several more loops of the trail, in which he did not seem to be gaining on his quarry. What if, after all, he was following some image of his own imagination, inflated perhaps by lack of sleep and anxiety over Bob?

He shook the idea from his mind and peered ahead. Yes, there was no doubt about a distinct white figure crossing a shale drift at this very minute.

"No spook ever had to be that cautious," Pat told himself, and started on again.

As he rounded the curve that brought him to the edge of the shale, he was astonished to see the man in white vanish suddenly from sight. "Well, I'll be—" Pat hurried across the sliding, sharp particles, every bit of his sense of balance brought into play to maintain his position on the shifting footing.

At last he was over. Before him yawned the entrance to an old mine. Could this be what the arrow meant? Every claim in this part of the country was duly recorded, as he well knew, so why the mysterious hook on Lyman FOSDICK's part?

The hole explained the disappearance of the man in white, however. Pat determined to investigate further since he had come this far.

"Right as well be a complete idiot while I'm at it," he told himself.

The entrance was still well timbered, he discovered, as with the aid of a box of matches, and later a cigarette lighter, he made his way along the damp passage. Once he thought he heard a noise ahead, but could not be sure it wasn't a bat. The wall showed unmistakable signs of having been excavated for mining purposes, though there didn't seem to be any cross cuts, as yet.

Pat's last match was gone, and he was afraid the cigarette lighter would give out. He decided to retrace his steps, and slipped the lighter in his pocket. He was certain he could find his way back without its help and he might need it—

Strong arms seized him from behind, and he found himself in the grip of an antagonist as clever as he was muscular. After the first little finger of that hand was cut off, he never met him again, for the little finger of that hand was cut off. This unknown was a past master of all the devilish tricks of an underworld fighter. Pat realized it was a battle to the death. The blackness and silence added to the horror. He could be killed here without anyone being the wiser. Perhaps EB—

Once again he landed a smashing uppercut, then felt himself being battered backward along the slimy, rotting boards that formed the flooring of the tunnel. Desperately he braced himself, and tried to regain his lost position. His foot stepped suddenly into space, and Pat felt himself falling down—down into darkness.

THIRTEEN KILLED IN MEXICO CLASH

Associated Press

Mexico City, July 9.—Two sharp skirmishes between troops and rebel bands in southwest Mexico left thirteen insurgents dead today.

Eight persons were killed in an encounter with soldiers at the "Vaqueros" ranch near San Sebastian, Jalisco, yesterday. They were followers of the rebel leader, Estanislao Vasquez, who was reported among those killed.

Premier King Soon May Visit Coast

Canadian Press

Ottawa, July 9.—Prime Minister King hopes to make a trip west, as far as the British Columbia coast, during August, before he leaves in September to head Canada's delegation to the League of Nations meeting at Geneva.

It will depend, he said yesterday, on how many of his colleagues, six of whom will be in Europe this month, will have returned by early August.

Canadian Olympic Track and Field Trials Open Tomorrow

THE SPORTS MIRROR

By PETE SALLAWAY

ATHLETES attending the Olympic Games in Berlin next month will be housed in one of the finest villages ever erected for the sports extravaganza.

Strangers, men or women, will not be admitted to the grounds, but will be able to meet athletes in the waiting room and restaurant in the training building.

A swimming bath, a modern gymnasium, with boxing ring and the "Restaurant of the Nations," are other striking buildings.

By now, the United States Golf Association must realize that Kocsis is not a member of the Walker Cup team.

Facing defeat three times in the U.S. intercollegiate, after qualifying by an eyelash, Kocsis came on with a rush to repeat his victory of 1934.

In his semi-final match with Willie Turnesa of Holy Cross, the University of Michigan's twenty-three-year-old recently graduated captain was three down with four to go, but finished with a birdie and three pars to square the match on the thirty-sixth and prevail on the thirty-seventh with another par.

Kocsis won his first tournament of any importance at the age of fifteen. Attired in frayed trousers held up by rope, Charley brouder from nowhere to annex the Detroit District Golf Association tournament in 1928. He was taught by six golfing brothers.

Young Kocsis went to the semi-finals of the National Public Links championship in Philadelphia the following year. Kocsis has knocked at the door of amateur fame ever since, although he was considerably off his game last year and won nothing of importance.

This season, with Lawson Little a professional, he stacks up as well as any of the simon-pures.

Few amateurs outdrive Kocsis, whose short game needs little improvement.

The collegian's father runs an apary outside of Detroit, which has little bearing on this story except that a number of amateurs are likely to feel Charley Kocsis' sting before he is through in the U.S. amateur.

SIDNEY LOSES TO HOLLYWOOD NINE

Displaying their best form of the season, Hollywood softballers turned back the second-place Sidney nine 9 to 0, yesterday evening on the latter's home grounds in a B section softball fixture.

Cardinals moved out the North Saanich Service Club women's nine 28 to 27, in a free-hitting fixture at Central Park.

Addison, Dale, Cunningham and Humber See Action at Montreal

OFFICIALS LOOK FOR FAST TIMES

Montreal, July 9.—The dark days of track in Canada, known as the post-Williams period, will be formally ended here Friday when 200 athletes start to run and jump in the Olympic Games trials at Molson Stadium.

So much brighter is the situation than it was two years ago, when British and South African sprinters left the Canadians far behind at the Empire Games in London, that Olympic officials expect to send an exceptionally strong team to Berlin.

In 1934 the sprint section was led by Bill Christie, Toronto, a steady ten-second performer who was out-classed on the open runway. On this week's trials at least nine dashmen capable of bettering even time for the century are entered. One equaled the world record of 10.3 for 100 metres last week.

It is doubtful if Canada ever had that many first-class sprinters before. Howie McPhee, Vancouver's successor to the retired Percy Williams, equaled the world record in the British Columbia trials to beat the list of prospects. But others seem capable of making the former schoolboy ace step at his best.

Among these are Jack Brown, Toronto, with 10.7 to his credit. No sprinter in Ontario has been fast enough to challenge Brown. Alex Bland, Taber, clocked in 10.6 in Al-Bland, stands out as another likely contender.

RICHARDSON HAS SPEED If Sammy (Laxy Béné) Richardson decides to run in the short sprint, as well as go after records in the broad and hop, step and jump, there will be trouble for all concerned. The sensational Toronto youngster hasn't competed on the track this season, but no doubt exists regarding his speed.

Martin Naylor and Lee Orr, Vancouver; Bruce Humber, Victoria; Johnny Loring, University of Western Ontario; Bill McBride, Winnipeg; and Gordon McHenry, Ontario schoolboy champion from Toronto, are others who have beaten ten seconds for 100 yards.

The 400-metre contenders include several who hope to get around forty-second seconds. They are Marshall Simon, Vancouver; Loring, Joe Addison, Victoria; Bill Pitt and Ray Lewis, Toronto; Limon, who has been training in the east for several weeks, will start a strong favorite.

Phil Edwards, the McGill doctor who runs for Hamilton Olympic Club, Ontario, who failed to make the marathon squad three weeks ago, will come back for a try at 10,000 metres. Rankine has been unbeatable at this distance. Milton Wallace, Toronto, is the popular choice for the 5,000 metres.

GOOD JUMPERS The jumpers won't do so badly either. Richardson should top twenty-five feet in the broad jump and fifty feet in the hop, step and jump. The seventeen-year-old colored boy has never failed to accomplish something startling in the big meets.

Joe Haley, Trail, B.C., said he plays on getting over 6 feet 5 inches in the high jump. The big British Columbian was topping 6 feet 3 inches yesterday in practice and figured the competition would force him higher in the trials.

Among the javelin throwers, Bob Dixon, Vancouver, and Jack Courtwright, Ottawa, may better 200 feet and perhaps break the Canadian record of 207 feet, set in 1930 by Sidney Lay, New Zealand.

On the Molson Stadium track, Larry O'Connor, Toronto, should break 15.2 Canadian record for 110-metre hurdles. The record has stood since 1924, when Earl Thomson won the Olympic trial in that time. The famous Winnipeg hurdler also won the Olympic title, but in 14.6 seconds.

It is reported that there are more than 150 road stations illegally operated by bootlegging firms in and about New York. These stations are used to communicate with supply ships.

London, July 9.—Edmonton Grads, world champion amateur girls' basketball team, overwhelmed London pioneers 100 to 2 in an exhibition game here yesterday evening.

BIG SALMON ARE LANDED

Gordon Hardy and Dr. Hugh Clarke Catch Fine Springs at Brentwood

Although only a few big fish were landed yesterday, anglers caught quite a number of smaller ones, weighing in the neighborhood of seven to twelve pounds at Saanich Arm. Gordon Hardy and Dr. Hugh Clarke reeled in a fish weighing twenty-three and twenty-two pounds, respectively.

Harry Gilbert, Brentwood Bay, reported today that during the last three days the fish have refused to take the lures to any extent.

Members of the British party who visited Victoria over the week-end, took considerable interest in the activities of the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association. They visited the headquarters of the association at Brentwood and took pictures of the competition fish.

VERNON SIDE BEATS LOCALS

Scores 169 to 104 Win in Vancouver Cricket Tournery; Wenman Bats Well

Vancouver, July 9.—The Vernon cricket eleven defeated Victoria by 65 runs yesterday to chalk up their first victory in the British Columbia cricket week series. In the other two fixtures, Vancouver Oils defeated Vancouver Wednesday League eleven by three wickets and Vancouver Burrards defeated Vancouver Juniors by 159 runs.

Burrards' win yesterday put them atop the series standing with three victories in three starts. Victoria and the Wednesday League aggregation were grouped at the bottom of the standing with two losses and one draw each in three starts.

Victoria was able to amass only 104 runs against Vernon, while the interior boys were running up a count of 169.

But for Reg Wenman's fine batting, Victoria would have cut a poor showing. The clever island batsman making 56 runs in a fine display with the willow. Curtis and Capt. Larder bowled finely for the Okanagan team, the former taking five wickets for 26 runs and Capt. Larder three for 23.

Vernon at last showed their true form when batting, Temple making top score of 45 in good style, while Atkinson compiled 21, Curtis 20 and Prowse 20, not out. Bales came out with an analysis of three wickets for 21 runs for Victoria, and Wenman clinched three men at a cost of 22 runs.

On arrival at Seattle this evening the Chapmans will board a bus and are scheduled to reach Montreal next Wednesday evening. The Windsor squad, holders of the Canadian championship, will play for Germany next week tomorrow. The Chapmans will get a chance to work out with Windsor before sailing.

COUGHING EPIDEMIC Boston, July 9.—An epidemic of coughing confined approximately 200 workers at the Boston Race Track yesterday and today. The workers were unable to work daily card with difficulty.

EAGLES JOIN IN SOCIAL EVENING

A successful social evening and dance was enjoyed last night by 150 members and friends of Victoria Aerie No. 12, Fraternal Order of Eagles, at the lodge rooms.

J. R. B. Graham, president of the aerie, was in charge of the arrangements, assisted by a committee composed of A. Fynn (chairman), C. O'Regan, A. E. Chilton, P. Babcock, D. Esler and W. Bridgewood.

Chapmans Off to Berlin

As a fitting reward to their lengthy campaign in Canadian basketball Art and Chuck Chapman, leading members of the Victoria Dominions, left on this afternoon's train for Seattle, en route to Montreal to sail with the Windsor Fords for Berlin to play at the Olympic Games.

On arrival at Seattle this evening the Chapmans will board a bus and are scheduled to reach Montreal next Wednesday evening. The Windsor squad, holders of the Canadian championship, will play for Germany next week tomorrow. The Chapmans will get a chance to work out with Windsor before sailing.

BATTLE ROYAL ON TOMORROW

Eight Wrestlers to Perform in Novelty Event on V.A.C. Fight Card

With such favorites as Reggie Hopkins, George Lowe, Bing Quon, Bill Steen, Alec Gardiner, Bud Kerchin, Barney Lane and Harold Whitehead participating in the battle royal, one of the most action-filled cards of the season is expected when the Victoria Athletic Club presents its outdoor all-wrestling show at the Athletic Park tomorrow night. The opener will be at 8.30 o'clock.

All the lads who will appear tomorrow night are among the outstanding performers who appeared on the Mount Stephen Athletic Club's outdoor shows in previous years, and many fans will no doubt recall their prowess at the art of bone-bending.

With each lad weighing in the neighborhood of 150 pounds, 1200 pounds, or over half a ton of bone and muscle will take part in the opening scramble. Their positions in the following bouts will be decided upon how they are eliminated, with the first pair to leave meeting in the curtain raiser, and so on until there are only two left. This couple will fight in the main event.

FIGHT RESULTS

BOXING Chicago—George Nichols, 162, Buffalo, N.Y., outpointed Allen Matthews, 161, St. Louis (10).

Detroit—Roscoe Tois, 194½, Detroit, outpointed Eddie Simms, 196½, Cleveland (10).

Cincinnati—Paul Lee, 133, Indianapolis, and Johnny Stevens, 126, Cincinnati, drew (10).

Westerly, R.I.—Izzy Singer, 184, New York, outpointed John Puerto, 180, Providence, R.I. (8).

Vancouver Shots Take Two Events

Lightning Kills Golfer, Caddie

Indianapolis, July 9.—Max Schulz, twenty-five, golf professional and his caddie, Chester Burns, sixteen, were killed instantly yesterday when they were struck by a bolt of lightning on a fairway of the Willow Brook course.

Stulz was practicing for the St. Paul, Minn., open, to be held later this month.

STEELE AND RISCO READY

Battle Over Fifteen Rounds at Seattle Tomorrow For World Title

Seattle, July 9.—Both predicting their title fight tomorrow night will not go the scheduled fifteen rounds. Freddie Steele, Tacoma, and Babe Risko, world middleweight champion, were taking it easy today.

Steele said, "I don't think I will have to go that long, but if I do I don't think the grind will bother me."

Risko said, "Fifteen rounds is my dish. The longer they are the better I like them, but I don't think I will have to travel that many heats."

The odds on the fight were about even, in spite of the fact Steele won a decision over Risko in a ten-round fight here.

M'CARTHY IS DRAWING FIRE

Being Criticized For Not Pulling DiMaggio in All-star Ball Game

New York, July 9.—Joe McCarthy, caretaker from criticism all season as his Yankees make the American League race a one-horse walkover, was roasted yesterday for allowing Rookie Joe DiMaggio to stay in Tuesday's all-star game for a full nine-inning flop.

Many believe Joe should have pulled his star rookie to save his spirit. Some even have a hunch that the Yankees, held to a batting average of .100 by the National League, may lose a lot of their drive from now on and have a tough time winning their pennant.

But McCarthy, a man who became one of baseball's most successful figures by acting almost according to the dictates of his heart, yesterday defended his position and merely chuckled over the thoughts of the second guessers who fear for his Yankees.

"I'd do the same thing all over again," said the Yankee pilot. "Joe just had a bad day, and, anyway, he was the only right fielder I had on my squad. Used every player I had except Rolfe Hemsley. Didn't get a chance to use him. DiMaggio discouraged? Don't make me laugh! He just had one of those days. If he let anything like that worry him, why, he just wouldn't belong, that's all!"

G. L. Churchyard and Cpl. A. H. Greenwood Win Westminster and Vancouver Corporation Matches in B.C.R.A. Meet at Heals

By Times Staff Representative Heals Rifle Range, July 9.—Turning in two perfect targets, visiting marksmen ran away with the shooting yesterday afternoon at Heals rifle range. Vancouver across scored victories in every competition.

Despite adverse wind conditions and a slight mirage, G. L. Churchyard, Vancouver Rifle Association veteran, who has been shooting on the local range for many years, shot a possible 70 at 500 yards to win the Westminster Corporation Match.

A strong sun and a plague of mosquitoes failed to disturb Mr. Churchyard, who gave a remarkable demonstration of perfect judgment and deliberate shooting.

Fustlier I. M. Grant, who Monday took the British Consols No. 1 match, placed second in the Westminster contest with 69, along with S.M.I. W. H. Wood and Miss G. Spencer. This year's contest over 96 in the contest gave evidence of exceptional shooting.

As the sun slanted down into the eyes of the marksmen, Corporal A. H. Greenwood of the Royal Canadian Air Force, shot a perfect 50 at 600 yards in the Vancouver Corporation match, noting out Private T. Thorburn and Leading Aircraftman W. G. Harvey, both of whom dropped one shot into the inner circle.

SEAFORTH'S WIN Dashing a hundred yards over the rough field on the command of the range officer, teams from several regiments engaged in a half-minute battle for honors in the Princess Patricia Canadian Light Infantry service competition. The Seaforth Highlanders team of Vancouver was first to shoot down the targets.

The Seaforth Highlanders team was made up of Capt. G. MacNeil, CSM. J. Hall, Sergeant L. C. Wiloughby, Corporal E. J. Jamieson and Private R. Walker.

Scores in the Duff Stuart match, shot off early in the day, were as follows:

Bob Pirie and Phyllis Dewar In Brilliant Performances

Approach Record Times In Taking Canadian Trials

Former Wins Mile in 21.3.6
From Bobby Hooper; Phyllis
Takes 400 Yards

Noel Oxenbury Is Backstroke Champ

Montreal, July 9.—It was a sure-fire certainty today that Bob Pirie, Toronto, and Phyllis Dewar, Vancouver, would lead Canada's swimming team at the Olympic Games in Berlin this summer and that Bob and Phyllis would carry the only real threat from the Dominion.

After two days of trials in Notre Dame de Grace pool here, they were the only record-breakers. They stood out so far ahead of other contenders that only international competition looked as a means of forcing them to travel at their best speed.

Bob and Phyllis went after world records yesterday evening and failed by a few seconds, and without any close competition in the twenty-five yard pool. But they won events so impressively there remained no doubt about their selection on the Olympic squad.

Pirie, swimming at his favorite distance, was clocked in twenty-one minutes three and six-tenths seconds for the mile, missing the world record by less than six seconds. The world mark of 20:37.8 is held by Jack Medina, Seattle. Only Bobby Hooper, Vancouver, stayed within striking distance and Hooper fell behind steadily.

HOOPER SECOND

The Vancouver swimmer finished in 21:25, under the former Canadian record, and Gordon, Devon, Toronto, a youngster who has been in senior competition only three months, fought gamely along in third place to place only two seconds on the wrong side of Pirie's former record.

Miss Dewar, winner of the 100-yard freestyle event for women Tuesday night, came back with a smashing triumph in the 400 yards and missed the world record by two and one-tenth seconds. The Vancouver flash didn't start to leave her field behind until after fifty yards.

Then she raced away easily to be clocked in 5:32.1, one-tenth of a second slower than her own Canadian record. The world mark is held by Lenore Knight, New York. Coach Percy Norman, Vancouver, said the Vancouver flier was not shooting for the record.

But after getting ahead of her opposition in the final, Miss Dewar sailed on as though she had records in mind. Irene Pirie, Montreal, who forced her to lower the 100-yard mark the previous night, had withdrawn from the longer race so Phyllis had to make her own pace.

CLINE BEATEN

Gordon Kerr, Windsor, Ont., scored the biggest upset by winning the men's 100-yard backstroke in a great finish with Ed Cline, Vancouver.

Noel Oxenbury, Vancouver, won the women's 100-yard backstroke in 1:14.8 and proved her superiority beyond doubt. Only Mary McConkey, Edmonton, challenged the British Columbia girl in the final and Mary's bid was too late. It failed by a yard.

Defeat Five C's Handily in Wednesday League Fixture

The bowling of N. Dracopoli and F. Mills, visiting California

cricketers who played yesterday for the Five C's, failed to stem the tide of runs which set in late in the innings of the Hudson's Bay boys and the departmentals beat the churchmen by four wickets and twenty runs in the Wednesday League fixture, at Beacon Hill.

The Five C's put up 115 runs in their innings, with Mills leading the batters and started out well in the field as they took four wickets for forty-seven runs. Oakman and Baker partnered on a fifth wicket stand to pull the team ahead, Oakman with fifty-one and Baker with thirty-four.

The side retired when it had posted 135 runs for six wickets.

The annual picnic of St. John's Sunday school, yesterday, at Elk Lake, proved an enjoyable affair. Some eighty-five children and parents attended. A splendid programme of sports, under the direction of Alan Paver, assisted by Harold Parrott, Bob Murray and Miss K. Smith, was run off. Games for the little tots were led by Lenora Trickett and Betty Forsyth. Swimming and baseball were also enjoyed. Miss M. Randall, Miss Helen Forsyth, Mrs. L. Goodwin, Mrs. L. Smith, Mrs. Roskelly and several others prepared the supper. Harold Parrott distributed the numerous prizes, after which noise-making novelties were given to the children.

A very successful outing was held by the Central Baptist Church and Sunday School yesterday. Two hundred of children and young people left the church at 1 o'clock, while private cars conveyed the adults to the picnic grounds at the Experimental Farm, Sidney. An enjoyable afternoon was spent under ideal weather conditions, the younger members of the party indulging in games and races, while the older ones visited the farm buildings and grounds. At 5.30 o'clock about 200 sat down to a fine repast and W. A. Hick, the superintendent, read a cable of greetings from the pastor, Rev. J. B. Rowell, who is visiting in Great Britain. A service of song concluded the day, and the picnic was a complete success. Miss Phyllis Hick and E. Holgate on the violin.

Five Possibles In Governor's Match

Miss Gwen Spencer and Four Vancouver Marksmen Have Perfect Scores in First Stage of Feature Event of B.C.R.A. Meet at Heals Range

By Staff Representative

Heals Rifle Range, July 9.—Five possibilities were marked up in the first stage of the Lieutenant-Governor's match at 200 yards here this morning in the feature event of the annual prize meet of the British Columbia Rifle Association. Miss Gwen Spencer, young markswoman of the Fifth Brigade, came to the fore with seven successive bulls for a possible 35.

Fussler Ian Grant, Vancouver, who had dropped back slightly from his good record of the first day when he captured the British Consols No. 1 match, also came through with a perfect score in the Lieutenant-Governor's. Others turning in possibilities were: Sgt. L. C. Willoughby, Seaford Highlanders; Cpl. J. P. O'Sullivan, R.C.A.F., and Cpl. M. Sanderson, R.C.A.F. (N.P.).

This was considered exceptional marksmanship as conditions today were not good. There was a tricky wind and poor light.

GREAT SHOOTING

Firing at 300 yards in the British Consols No. 2 nine competitors of about 100 had nine bulls each and dropped single shots into the inner ring for scores of 49 out of 50. Miss Spencer and Grant again led the parade with 49's.

Twenty-one targets were worth 48 or more.

The veteran Capt. W. E. Tapley, Canadian Scottish, put some of the younger competitors on the spot by firing a 34 in the Lieutenant-Governor's match and 48 in the Consols. The father-and-son race for points between Q.M.S. A. E. Evans and Cpl. G. L. Evans, both of the Esquimalt Garrison, continued this morning without any change in position. The father is leading by six points with 309 out of a possible 325.

There is already considerable speculation as to which marksmen will gain berths on the British Columbia team to go east for the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association meet at Ottawa. The eleven senior shots with the highest totals in the grand aggregate will compose the squad along with Sgt. J. Kier, R.C.A.F. (N.P.), now at Biele, and four tyro leaders.

FIND CACHE OF STOLEN GOODS

Suit of Clothes and Kit of Tools Located Under Enterprise Wharf

A cache of clothing and tools which had been stolen during the last two days was found yesterday afternoon at 5.15 o'clock under the runway leading to the Enterprise wharf.

The tools, valued at $45, and the suit were believed to have been hidden there by the thief pending an opportunity to get rid of them. The cache was found by George Willis.

The suit was owned by F. O. Murray, manager of the Empire Broadcasting Company, and the tools were the property of E. J. Cox, machinist, 1221 Langley Street. They were taken from his car on Tuesday about noon when it was parked on Douglas Street.

Is Fined After Holiday Crash

James C. Inrig Penalized $20 After Truck He Was Driving Turned Over

As the result of an accident on May 23, when twenty persons who were riding in a truck he hired were thrown out as the machine turned over, James C. Inrig was fined $20 in the City Police Court this morning on a charge of driving to the common danger.

Inrig was convicted on the evidence of James Torrance, 2510 Blackwood Avenue, and P. J. J. Burley, 2527 Graham Street, eye-witnesses to the accident, which occurred at the intersection of Blackwood and Haultain Streets, while the party was being taken on a "mystery trip."

The eye-witnesses testified they had seen the truck driving along Haultain Street, their attention having been attracted to it by screams of women. The screaming, they said, was caused by the swaying of the truck as it zigzagged along the road. When the truck turned the corner, they said, it turned on its side, throwing all the occupants out. There were about twenty persons standing in the back part of the truck.

Constable F. R. Woolsey testified he had measured a skid mark of thirty-five feet up to the point where the truck turned over.

Henry C. Hall, K.C., conducted the defence, his argument being the accident had been caused by the over-weighting of one side of the truck as it turned the corner.

OPEN SHOWS TOURIST LURE

Don Chambers of Hollywood Tells of Work Being Done There

Open-air shows, such as the "Symphonies of the Stars" in the Hollywood Bowl, which draws 24,000 people in an eight-week season, and the Pilgrimage Play Theatre, which presents the life of Christ during a five-week season in the southern California hills, half a mile from the movie colony, are tourist attractions of the highest calibre, states Don Chambers, publicity director of the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce, who is a visitor to Victoria today.

Mr. Chambers also is Hollywood representative of the Los Angeles Community Chest Fund, which raises $2,700,000 a year by voluntary contribution for charity; secretary of the Hollywood Bowl Easter sunrise service committee, as well as a member of the production committee of the pilgrimage play, which is based along the lines of the passion play at Oberammergau in Germany.

What these attractions mean to Los Angeles as tourist drawing cards, was explained by Mr. Chambers this morning to George I. Warren, publicity commissioner of Victoria, upon whom he called to pay his compliments.

Victoria, in staging the Show Boat performances, featuring artistic and entertaining attractions on week nights, and musical services of a religious character on Sundays, was on the right track, said Mr. Chambers, in paying a compliment to the work of T. H. Edick, to whom he was introduced by Mr. Warren.

Mr. Chambers traveled north over Highway No. 101 by automobile. "I saw your birds all the way up," he told Mr. Warren.

"I found a remarkable volume of motor tourist traffic headed north. It looks as if British Columbia and Vancouver Island will have a great tourist year."

Farmers Battle Grasshoppers

Serious Menace in Cariboo Area This Year; Extra Funds Advanced

Farmers in the Cariboo about Williams Lake and the 100-mile House are waging a desperate battle against grasshoppers this year, according to reports reaching the Department of Agriculture.

Difficulties in getting poison have hampered them, and ranges and crops are being completely destroyed in some districts, it is stated.

In the South Rike Creek and Kamloops areas, where special committees of the farmers handle the "hopper" menace, it is described as a "serious infestation."

The provincial government today came to the aid of the committees in these two areas with advances of funds to enable them to cope with the situation.

The Kamloops committee, which received $1,500 earlier in the year will get another $1,500 and the South Rike Creek committee, which got $750, will receive $1,000 more.

Who's Who At Hotels

"I am absolutely delighted with the place. I hope to come up here for a month's holiday next year with my wife and family and take a house," said Hal W. Brown, sales manager of the Pacific Outdoor Advertising Company, Los Angeles, who came to Victoria yesterday from Seattle, where he has been attending a conference of advertising men.

Mr. Brown stayed at the Empress Hotel, and was accompanied by Roy S. Marshall and H. P. Livershire, also of Los Angeles.

Asked his opinion of the stores in Victoria, Mr. Brown said: "I almost went mad in one of the big ones. I bought so much stuff I would have had to pay a fortune in customs if I had not had two friends along with me to share out the load."

Mr. Brown had been buying blankets, table linen and woolen goods, and believes he would have to pay two or three times as much for the same things in Los Angeles.

Miss Winifred McCarty, formerly connected with the Hudson's Bay Company in Victoria, and now with the Edmonton branch of the company, is in Victoria today renewing old acquaintances before leaving for New York and Montreal on a buying tour in the interests of the company. Miss McCarty is registered at the Empress Hotel.

Fred Call, manager of Drury's Limited in Regina, has arrived at the Empress Hotel with Mrs. Drury for a month's visit. Mr. Drury is recuperating from a slight illness.

The cast and staff of the Central Films production, "Vengeance of the Forest," was called at 5 o'clock this morning and left the Dominion Hotel at 6 o'clock for an early start on a heavy day's work. William Gargan, leading man, left the Empress Hotel at the same hour.

The company is on location today at the Hillcrest Lumber Company plant near Duncan, trying to match shots with those taken during a rainy week at Cowichan Lake.

Very interested in fishing is young Tom Kelley of Beverly Hills, Cal., who has been staying at the Dominion Hotel for some time with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Kelley.

Tom's father caught a twenty-three-pounder yesterday, but his own hopes of equaling that feat were spoiled when his line became entangled with that of his mother's.

"We are full up. Last night equalled our July 4 record. We turned away between thirty and fifty people. I think it is going to be like this from now on," said William Clark, manager of the Dominion Hotel, this morning.

Captivated by the beauty of Victoria and the lower island, Colonel W. S. Faulkner, retired United States army officer who is at present staying at the Dominion Hotel with his wife and his niece, Miss Jessie Welch, plans to return here next year to spend his entire holidays.

Colonel Faulkner is from San Antonio, Texas, and has much of interest to tell of the preparations for the state's centennial celebrations.

Victoria is losing greatly by having all its retail stores closed on Wednesday afternoons, in the opinion of D. O. Roblin, Toronto, who is on a business visit here at present.

The flow of Californians to the Empress Hotel continues unabated. Among the latest arrivals are: Mrs. J. C. Breckinridge and Santa E. Thompson, Palo Alto; Mrs. A. L. Bond, Glendale; Mrs. W. A. Bechtel, San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Kirschner, San Francisco; Dr. W. P. Parkin, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Bruning, Los Angeles; Miss Lou Parline, Petaluma; the Misses E. E. Kidd and L. Domers, Los Angeles; and Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Crabe, Oakland.

Among others registered at the Empress Hotel from the United States are: Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Barth, Portland; Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Spalding and Mr. and Mrs. C. Spalding, Laramie; Mr. and Mrs. P. Daret, Greenwich; Mrs. Frank Ritter, Santa Maude Zimmer and Miss P. Gillette, Rochester, N.Y.; Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Wilcox, Middletown; Mr. and Mrs. A. Resch, Chicago; F. W. Tilton, Pittsfield; Miss R. E. Miller, New York City; C. P. and E. Scott, Kansas; Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Tickle, Oak Bay; J. Jungmeyer Jr., Chatawa; Rev. and Mrs. Samuelson, Longview; Miss E. H. Gleason, Jamaica Plain; Mr. and Mrs. E. MacQuarrie, Minneapolis; Mrs. D. Dworsky, Minneapolis; and Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Merwin, Portland.

Californians on the visitors' list at the Dominion Hotel today include: Mr. and Mrs. John W. Edgmond and Miss Betty Edgmond, Oakland; Miss Martha Neumann, Beverly Hills; G. H. Holmes, King City; Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Thomas and Miss Kay Thomas, Glendale; Mr. and Mrs. N. M. HOLD PICNIC AT SHAWNIGAN

Over 100 Employees of David Spencer Ltd. Enjoy Outing at Lake

Over 100 employees of David Spencer Ltd. went to Shawnigan Lake in buses and a number of private cars for the fourth annual picnic of the Spencer's Sports and Social Club yesterday. Gobbling up bananas and buns and balancing potatoes on spoons, the picnickers enjoyed a varied programme of sports which occupied most of the afternoon. An interesting treasure hunt was one of the main attractions and sent parties scurrying all over the woods and hills.

Ice cream and soft drinks were sold on the field and supper was served later by a local caterer. A dance in the S.L.A.A. hall topped off the day and sent the employees home weary but happy at 1 o'clock this morning.

The picnic was arranged by Albert Whitfield who was given valuable assistance by Lloyd Cann. Other officers of the club are: T. A. Tadmor, president; Miss K. Elston, secretary, and Miss S. Underwood, treasurer.

The winners of the sports were: 100 yards, ladies—1, Miss Eva Mason; 2, Miss Phyllis Hawkes. 100 yards, men—1, Gordon Fields; 2, R. McMillan.

B.C. SEEKING LOWER RATES

Reid Here to Talk Over Grain Freight Charges With Government

Thomas Reid, M.P. of New Westminster, visited Victoria today and discussed with Attorney-General Gordon Sloan this province's case for the lowering of domestic freight rates on grain down to the export rate.

Mr. Reid will argue for the lower rate before the Canadian Privy Council next fall.

The New Westminster member also talked over with Hon. F. M. MacPherson, minister of public works, proposals for improving the road route leading to the new Fraser River bridge at New Westminster.

ALBERTA RATE CUT DEBATED

Vancouver Council Fails to Decide on Accepting Lower Interest

Canadian Press
Vancouver, July 9.—The Vancouver city council yesterday failed to decide whether or not to accept the lower interest rates on Alberta bonds, after a lengthy discussion on the subject. It was decided to seek the advice of Corporation Counsel D. E. McTaggart and Manager C. F. Laing of the Bank of Montreal and then bring the subject up for discussion again Monday.

A cheque for interest, amounting to $11,261, which was received recently, was $1,024 short of the stipulated rate of 4½ per cent, being for interest at that rate only to the end of May and for half that rate for the month of June, in accordance with Alberta's decision not to pay more than 2½ per cent interest on bonds. Vancouver holds a total of $1,189,573 worth of Alberta bonds, it was shown at the meeting. Annual interest receipts totalled $53,448, but the interest cut reduces the amount to $26,721.

The decision to postpone a definite decision and seek advice came when Alderman T. H. Kirk pointed out an Alberta order-in-council provided that if cheques for lower interest were accepted, further payments would be made, but it did not mention what the alternative would be.

Nanaimo Liberals Choose Officers

Nanaimo, July 9.—With Hon. G. S. Pearson as guest speaker and a large representation present from the upper island, the Nanaimo-Alberni Provincial Liberal Association met in the Eagles' Hall here yesterday evening, when the following officers were elected: President, A. Kneen, Port Alberni; vice-presidents, S. Rummung, Nanaimo; Robert Taylor, Errington; J. S. Dunn, Nanaimo; Christopher Fiddick, Cedar District; and C. C. Cox, Alberni. Executive committee, Fred Wakstaff and C. Murray Reynolds, Nanaimo; T. Christie, Port Alberni; and Robert Derby, Beaver Creek. Votes of appreciation were passed to George Forester, Alberni, retiring president, and W. Mellor of Nanaimo, secretary for three years.

Fairbanks Jr. At the Atlas

"The Amateur Gentleman," which marks Douglas Fairbanks Jr.'s first venture as a producer-star, begins a three-day engagement at the Atlas Theatre today.

Adapted by Clemence Dane from the world-famous Jeffrey Farnol novel, this red-blooded tale of one of the most daring adventures in the history of man, provides young Fairbanks with a ready-made role of swashbuckling romantic proportions, in the true Fairbanks tradition, and also offers an auspicious opening for his producing venture, Criterion Film Productions, in which he is associated with Marcel Hellman, the well-known Continental producer.

The second feature in this programme is "Two in the Dark," starring Walter Abel and Margot Graham.

BOBBY BREEN TO BE STARRING HERE

Five years of assiduous effort have brought Bobby Breen the reward he merits and the goal so many parents seek for their talented children.

Bobby is in the movies, the star of "The Sing Again," which will open at the Dominion Theatre tomorrow.

He is the eight-year-old who, equipped with an understanding of what is required of him and a well-trained and powerful voice for a lad of his age, earned national fame for himself singing on Eddie Cantor's radio broadcasts.

Starting his career five years ago as a singer in the Silver Slipper Night Club in Toronto, he advanced to vaudeville and footlight engagements, radio work and now is in the cinema sponsored by Sol Lesser.

Full range is given to Bobby's remarkable talents in "The Sing Again." Opportunities to sing "La Donna de Mobile," from "Rigoletto," in Italian, two folk songs and three popular tunes, including the title song and "Lullaby," exercise Bobby's magnificent voice, which a famous vocal coach has compared to that of the unforgettable Enrico Caruso.

BALLETS FEATURE OPENING PICTURE

In the production of "A Midsummer Night's Dream," which will be given a premiere showing at the opening of the new Oak Bay Theatre on July 15, the ballets have been featured because of the nature of the story in which fairy dances abound in the woodland scenes. Elaborate ballets have been provided by the best talents available. The producer chose Europe's great ballerina, Bronislava Nijinska, as ballet director and Nina Thelade as premiere danseuse.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Florenz Ziegfeld once said of Seymour Felix, the dance director, "He is king of all he surveys." Felix has been one of the most interesting figures in the modern

"ZIEGFELD" IS GREAT FILM

Superb Entertainment Opens at Capitol Theatre Before Big House

Superlatives are bandied about so freely in these days of film propaganda that when a really great picture comes to town it is difficult to find words to praise it adequately. And "The Great Ziegfeld," which opened its three-day Victoria premiere at the Capitol Theatre last night, is a really great picture. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer have excelled themselves in its production.

From the point of view of entertainment it contains all the ingredients which brought success to Ziegfeld's own shows—a galaxy of stars, magnificent spectacles superbly directed, acting, singing and dancing of the highest calibre, and a generous flavor of humor to spice the pot-pourri.

William Powell gives the finest performance of his career as Flo Ziegfeld Jr., rising to great heights in his portrayal of the one-time "barker" who, achieving his youthful ambition to "glorify the American girl," becomes the greatest showman on Broadway. A great gambler and an expert in the art of bluff, some of his finest scenes are with that clever comedian, Frank Morgan, who as Jack Billings, matches wits with him, unsuccessfully, from the day when they are rival barkers in the World's Fair at Chicago until the day when both lose their all in the Wall Street crash.

Surrounded by beautiful women throughout his career, Ziegfeld had two serious love affairs, with Anna Held, his first wife, and Billie Burke, his second and last. Lulu Rainer acts superbly as the temperamental, glamorous Anna Held who holds his affections until, piqued by his attentions to one of his showgirls, she divorces him. Myrna Loy is lovely to look at and gives a charming impersonation of Billie Burke, who returned to the stage to help retrieve his fallen fortunes at the end.

The well-told story of Ziegfeld's life is interspersed with scenes designed to illustrate the heights to which Ziegfeld attained as a producer of magnificent spectacles. His clamor for "steps and more steps" on which to display gorgeous girls in gorgeous gowns is exemplified in an outstanding scene showing an enormous revolving stage on which hundreds of girls in glittering costumes dance and sing on a huge spiral staircase to the lifting melody of "You Never Looked So Beautiful Before." Ray Bolger is the principal singer and Virginia Bruce, seated on the topmost pinnacle of the stairway, is the loveliest of the lovely girls. While there are a number of enchanting new songs in the production, a number of old-time favorites from Ziegfeld Broadway shows are introduced.

The ballet numbers are outstanding, one novel scene showing dozens of girls arising from moving rows of spectacular beds to execute a series of clever dances; in another, a galaxy of lovely girls prouette around six handsome Russian wolfhounds, who stand motionless while Harriet Hector, the lovely ballerina, displays her peerless art. Nat Pendleton is the outstanding male dancer, his eccentric and agile antics being

At Columbia

Even long before Conan Doyle's colorful hero, Sherlock Holmes, was conceived, the detective character occupied a definite spot in the hearts of imaginative people. For years Scotland Yard furnished the glamour for most crime stories, but recently the remarkable work contributed by the United States Department of Justice has advanced it to the foreground.

"Confidential," now showing at the Columbia Theatre, the executives decided that the public was always ready for a G-Man picture, providing it contained a new slant.

"Confidential," featuring Donald Cook and Evelyn Knapp, is a story depicting the activities of the G-Men in stamping out the well-known "number" racket in New York.

As the second feature, "King of the Pecos" is offered, starring John Wayne.

Fine Comedy At the Plaza

Paul Kelly and Arline Judge are the top names in the cast of "Here Comes Trouble," the new Fox picture coming today to the Plaza Theatre, with a shipload of laughs and dramatic thrills in a story of life aboard a luxury liner.

Spanish senoritas get this breezy sailor into all sorts of trouble ashore, and jewel thieves keep him in mischief aboard ship. And through it all, Kelly and Miss Judge are wildly in love, even if they persist in taking it out of each other with biting comedy and sarcasm.

Shown as the first feature on this programme is "The Moon's Our Home," starring Henry Fonda and Margaret Sullivan.
